Deer on Hunt For Food Raid Ranches

SANTA BARBARA, June 3. Wild deer, forced down from the mountains because of the forage shortage due to the drought, are denuding ranches, bean fields and orchards, according to reports of farmers made here today.

The land in the Naples district is being nibbled bare by the deer, while one Carpintera lemon grower reported the animals stripping his trees.

Scores of does and fawns but no bucks are seen, the ranchers reported, adding that the State Fish and Game commission will be asked to suggest some way the deer may be kept up in the hills.

Daughters Teli of Long Battle Against Narcotics in Pitiful Court Case.

LOS ANGELES, June 3.—A mother was sent to jail here today through the efforts of her daughters. It was the beginning of a long fight to rescue Mrs. Mary Carter from the depths into which the use of powerful narcotics is asserted to have sent her.

How craving for drugs had disrupted a happy home, how they had struggled to keep their mother from degrading acts to secure stimulants, and how each time they met with defeat, was told by Mrs. Carter's two daughters.

Pending decision as to further action, Mrs. Carter was placed in the city jail.

HOLD INQUESTS OVER VICTIMS OF DISASTER

VENICE, Calif., June 3.—With responsibility for the blaze which took a toll of twenty-three lives when the Hope Development home burned Saturday night still unplaced, coroner's inquest over the blackened bodies of the child victims was to be held here today.

Origin of the fire is still as much a mystery as when it started. Incendiaries, the work of a moron who recently tried to attack one of the girls, an accident caused by one of the matrons using a gas jet to heat a curling iron, and the use by child inmates of matches in their play are all credited as possible causes of the tragic blaze.

The ashes of the home were again thoroughly sifted today, following discovery of another body yesterday buried under a pile of debris. It is believed that there is still another charred bit of flesh which was once a mind-clouded girl, somewhere beneath the burned timbers.

It was intimated by District Attorney Keyes that orders for a thorough probe of all charity homes and schools in the county may be asked of the county grand jury as an aftermath of the Hope school tragedy. It is believed there may be other similar structures which are dangerous.

WOMEN RUSHING TO L. A. FOR CLUB MEET

(By United Press Leased Wire) LOS ANGELES, June 3.—With 6,000 delegates already in the city and others arriving on special trains incoming as close together as good railroading permits, Los Angeles was today invaded by a feminine host.

The biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's clubs, which tonight opens its national convention here, is the reason. The city has fallen gracefully and willingly before the welcome advance of its greatest host of women visitors since Spanish Romeos courted dark-eyed damsels through latticed windows about the plaza or Hollywood was a grain field and a half day's distance away.

Pre-convention business sessions have been in progress for the past 24 hours. Members of the California Federation of Women's clubs, who have joined with local clubwomen in acting as hostesses during the ten days of the convention, have been here for a week. The machinery is all well-oiled, the programs crammed with interesting features, and the prospects for a beneficial and instructive session brilliant.

It is a serious minded body of women that Mrs. Thomas G. Winter's, the retiring president, has brought to Los Angeles. They have a definite idea of the program ahead. It includes a campaign for world peace, service to mankind and a general betterment of civilization toward which organized clubwomen have already accomplished much.

The delegates are here for business. There will be fun, of course, but it will take second place.

Two states are already in the running for the 1926 convention—Oklahoma and Arkansas. Delegates from the former state claim an advantage in their promise to build a special convention hall if awarded the event.

FORD OFFER HAS BACKING OF MINORITY

WASHINGTON, June 3.—The McNary-Haugen farm relief bill, principal measure proposed by the farm bloc for agricultural aid this session, was defeated by the house today. The vote was 154 to 224.

An attempt by friends of the bill to diminish opposition before the final vote by restricting the scope of the measure to wheat, flour, swine and food products thereof, was defeated 69 to 101.

The failure of the bill to pass left farm bloc members without any program other than to restrict adjournment in the senate until a satisfactory substitute can be drafted.

House farm leaders have been attempting for several days to agree upon a substitute in the event the McNary-Haugen bill was defeated, and have come to no conclusion.

The bill would have created a $200,000,000 federal corporation to handle the exportation of basic farm products with a view to "dumping" farm surpluses abroad to restore equality of farm product prices and those of other commodities.

On the final vote 100 Republicans, 52 Democrats and two Independents voted for the bill, while 101 Republicans, 122 Democrats and one Socialist voted against it.

REMOUSE GOAD AS MAN SHOT BARES THEFT

His remorse overwhelming him when he was placed in solitary confinement in the county jail here, Wallace R. Berry, 32, broke down today and confessed to deputy sheriffs that he was suffering from which he was suffering were received when he escaped under fire from the chicken coop of M. C. Chase at Cypress on the night of May 22.

Since he was apprehended in a Los Angeles rooming house the next day, when he was found suffering with gunshot wounds in his right side, Berry had steadfastly baffled officers in their effort to link him to any crime. An accurate description of the miscreant was lacking.

Working on a purely psychological theory, Sheriff Sam Jernigan succeeded in having Berry transferred to the Orange county hospital.

Meanwhile deputies tried in vain to get a description of the man believed to have been shot at 1 a. m. by Chase, when the poultryman was roused by a burglar alarm which had been sounded from his chicken yard.

Last night Berry, who is from Arizona and who has been in Los Angeles a short time, was formally arrested on a charge of burglary and was removed from the hospital to a solitary cell in the jail here. Today when McClellan and Adams visited the prisoner, they said he was ready to admit that he had attempted to rob the chicken coops of Chase.

He was said to have confessed also to having planned to sell the poultry to a wholesale market in Los Angeles.

After the asserted confession, Berry was permitted to return to the hospital to recover from his wounds before prosecution is started.

ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

FOUNDER OF SCHOOL IS NEAR COLLAPSE

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., June 3.—Mrs. Ione Conant, who established the Hope Development school near Venice and was in charge of it until recently, was near a breakdown at her residence here today. Mrs. Conant went to the fire scene Sunday and was reported bordering on a collapse following her return home.

"Something must have been radically wrong," Mrs. Conant said, "because the building was provided with ample exits and was planned so it might be emptied quickly."

NEW HOSPITAL CHIEF

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 3.—Dr. Edwin Wayne has been appointed medical superintendent of the Norwalk State hospital at Norwalk to succeed Dr. C. F. Applegate, who has resigned after 25 years of service in that capacity.

Al Jolson Quits Show in Oakland For Sudden Trip

OAKLAND, Cal., June 3.—Just why Al Jolson hopped a train for the east last night when he should have been playing in "Bombo" at the municipal auditorium here, no one seemed to know today, but just the same that's what he did.

"His voice hasn't been good since he came west," one member of the company said.

The famed comedian cancelled all California engagements and departed, leaving the company behind him.

Identifies Death Victim by Radio

LOS ANGELES, June 3.—Radio last night aided in the identification of a well dressed woman who dropped dead on a downtown street car. A local broadcasting station was asked by police to send out the woman's description.

H. R. Hance, listening to the program, concluded the description was that of Mrs. R. Marshall, the owner of the apartment house where he lived. A visit to the morgue proved him correct.

Seize New Form Of Rum in Raid

BROOKHART LEADING IN SENATE CONTEST

(By United Press Leased Wire) DES MOINES, Iowa, June 3.—The race between Smith W. Brookhart and Burton E. Sweet for the Republican nomination for United States senator, proved a nip and tuck affair today as returns continued to come in from precincts balloting in the state primary election. Of 1133 precincts reporting out of 2412 in the state, Brookhart polled 105,973 votes while Sweet received 100,021.

The Democratic contest for United States senator was proving close. Charles R. Keyes of Des Moines was leading Daniel Steck in 370 precincts reporting, the vote being 4,230 for Keyes and 4,099 for Steck.

DO NOT FAIL TO READ "THE LAND OF FORGOTTEN MEN," BY EDISON MARSHALL

STARTING TOMORROW, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 4th IN THE REGISTER

Edison Marshall is at his best when describing a struggle. In this story there is a double struggle—the fight of a man to survive in one of the world's most barren regions and the equally desperate battle of two strong men of different blood for the woman that each loves well. "East is East, and West is West"—and here they meet with results that are dramatic.

Mr. Marshall's many readers will find "The Land of Forgotten Men" one of the most stirring stories of adventure in the great-out-of-doors.

'FROLIC' AIMED TO RID PUPILS OF JEALOUSY

Declaring that a spirit of jealous criticism exists between pupils of the Julia C. Lathrop and the Frances E. Willard junior high schools, Mrs. Neal Beisel, president of the Parent-Teacher association of the former school, said today that one of the purposes of the "freshmen frolic" to be held at the senior high school athletic field
Saturday afternoon was to cement the friendship of the pupils from the two schools and to eliminate possible antagonism when they become sophomores of the senior school next term.

The program consists of games that are not indulged in by pupils in their respective schools, the president said, adding that those in charge hoped all of the 300 graduates would be present during the play period, from 3 to 5 p. m.

R. R. Russick, physician director at the Y. M. C. A., will direct the games. "The Parent-Teacher association seeks always to build," said Mrs.
Beisel. "Realizing that an undesirable spirit of jealous criticism exists between the pupils of the two junior high schools, and feeling that this should not continue on into their relations in the sophomore class in senior high school, we propose to weld them together, if possible, in new friendships and contacts by the frolic.
The gathering is sponsored and heartily endorsed by the faculty and the associations of the two schools."

"We hope the day will be so successful that it will be unanimously adopted as a regular school activity. We expect the 300 freshmen will engage in the games. Two physical education teachers from each of the three high schools will conduct the stunt periods."

Referring to past custom of the association in complimenting graduates of the Frances E. Willard school, before opening this year of the Julia C. Lathrop school, with a "feed," Mrs. Beisel said that "we hope to replace the old idea of a feed for the graduating classes with a real contribution to school life and at the same time to furnish a real pleasure for them."

Articles of incorporation for Ketter's, Inc., operating a cafe in this city, were on file today in the

The corporation was shown by the articles on file to be capitalized at $150,000. Its directors are Minnie Ketter, L. O. Shepard, J. P.
Kriegel, Annie E. Hafer and Emma A. Hines, all of Santa Ana.
Attorney John A. Harvey filed the articles of incorporation.

RECORD SECOND MISTRIAL FOR HAT PAIR

Two juries having failed to agree as to their guilt or innocence, O. C.
Hardback and Glenn B. Churchill, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses from stockholders in an Anaheim hat store, today were facing a third trial, set for June 24 at 10 a. m. in the superior court here of Judge R. Y.
Williams.

The jury at the second trial, which closed last night, duplicated the action of the jury at the first trial several weeks ago, not only as to producing a mistrial, but also in exact division of opinion, as reported from the jury room. The vote, it was said, stood 7 to 5 for conviction from the first ballot and was never changed to the final vote six hours later.

The disagreement was announced at 11:30 p. m. and the jury was then dismissed by Judge Williams. It had deliberated since about 5:30 p. m. The new trial date was fixed immediately.

Churchill and Hardback showed disappointment at the failure of the jury to acquit them, a verdict which they were said to have confidently expected. This disappointment was shared, it was evident, by their wives, who have been in constant attendance at the various court proceedings and who kept vigil last night while the jury was struggling with its problem.

Churchill and Hardback have been confined to the county jail since their first trial, bail having been increased to $5000 then. They are now faced with the prospect of spending three weeks longer in jail before facing their next court ordeal.

Yesterday's trial was fought out on the same issue laid down at the first trial, the charge that Churchill and Hardback, in promoting the hat store, had represented to prospective stockholders that they, themselves, had invested $5000
each in the enterprise.

Press Lone Point
In summing up the case late yesterday, C. N. Mozley, chief deputy district attorney, told the jury that the state has shown a clear-cut case against the defendants, at least half a score of stockholders having testified in support of the prosecution's contention. Whether such a representation had been made was the only point the jury had to consider, Mozley declared, in deciding whether a violation of the law had occurred.

Attorney Morgan Marmaduke, for the defense, argued that the state had failed to prove its case beyond a reasonable doubt, no other testimony having been introduced to show that the defendants had made no such claim of personal investment. He further contended that the stockholders had received their stock, just what they paid for, and therefore, had not been defrauded. He also pointed to character testimony given on behalf of the defendants as showing the improbability of the fraud charged against them.

EMBROIDERY WORK PIECES DISPLAYED

"Many mothers can't hold a candle to their daughters now-days when it comes to real nifty work with the needle and thread," today declared Bruce E. Switzer, sales manager of the workman Dry Goods company here, as he pointed to a neat array of hand-embroidered bathing suits, stockings, dainty over-garments and daintier undergarments—all made by school girls.

The display completely fills two show windows at Rankin's, and consists of the work of the prize winners in the Rankin embroidered initial contest, as well as many other articles of women's apparel designed and finished by school students of this vicinity.

With Mrs. P. S. Tope of the Woman's club, Mrs. F. A. Martin of the Business and Professional Women's club, and Mrs. F. P.
Jayne of the Ebell club as judges, the prizes were awarded on a basis of sixty points for workmanship and forty points for originality.

The winners were: Elizabeth
Miller, 18 years old, of 510 West
Santa Clara avenue, first prize—a $10 gold piece; Cornelia Briscoe, 15, of Balboa, second prize—$5 gold piece; Grace Jiles, 15, 1003 Orange avenue, third prize—$2.50 in cash; Nellie Hershey, 16, of Orange, fourth prize—a $3 merchandise bond.

Truck and Auto Crash; None Hurt

the local authorities. According to the accident report filed, considerable damage resulted to the automobile driven by Harry A. Larson, 21, of 1019 Custer street, and to the auto truck of A. Hernandez of El Modena. Larson accused the truck driver of speeding across were made.

Stage and Screen

Pola Negri, whose latest picture,
"Men," is the current attraction at the Temple theatre.

CAPABLE CAST IN SUPPORT OF POLA IN "MEN"

The cast playing in support of Pola Negri in her newest picture,
"Men," which will be the feature at the Temple all next week, sets a new mark for big names. Robert Frazier has the principal male role, with Robert Edison and Joseph Swickard in equally important parts. Monti Collins has a great character role; Gino Corrado is a suave villain and Edgar Norton an unscrupulous baron.

"Men" is an original screen story written by Dimitri Buchowsky who was brought from Europe to produce his story with Pola Negri in the starring role. It's an intensely colorful and gripping tale of rapid-fire romance.

"THE LONE WOLF" FILM OF CROOK WORLD

It was the set rule of Michael Lanyard, the famous past master of crime, to never trust a woman nor work with a confederate which won for him the sobriquet of "The Lone Wolf."

The picture by that name is the current attraction at the West End theater.

Lanyard would have gone on until his dying day under that iron-clad rule had he not met Lucy Shannon, an attractive member of "The Pack," a society of the best organized underworld crooks in the melting pot of crime.

Lucy Shannon did her best to warn Lanyard when she heard that "The Pack" was out to get him because of his refusal to join it in an international plot to rob the United States government of some priceless plans. It also came to pass that Lucy and "The Lone Wolf" not only fell in love with each other but that they were forced to join hands in outwitting the horde of criminals that surrounded them in a Paris hotel where Lanyard had obtained the plans by physical might and strategy.

DOUBLE SCREEN BILL ON WALKER SCREEN

Many interesting discussions have arisen from the title of the photodrama now showing at Walker's theater, "Borrowed Husbands," adapted from Mildred K. Barbour's famous novel of the same name, has put fresh interest in the age-old question, "Should a husband or wife keep up friendship with members of the opposite sex after marriage?" The film treats the subject from a new angle and furnishes conversationalists with arguments that make debate interesting.

On the same bill is Will Rogers in "Big Moments from Little Pictures."

Rogers shows that he is a real travesty artist when he burlesques several big scenes from successful feature pictures.

Delia Fairbanks in "Robin Hood" is one of the outstanding impersonations and a great deal of comedy is derived from the bull fight when the star appears as Rudolph Valentino in "Blood and Sand."

Free Father of Serious Charge

Because his daughter, who had accused him of being the father of her unborn babe, was indistinct in details of her testimony and had failed to connect him with the crime against her, Carlos Silvas of El Toro was free today after a preliminary hearing on a statutory charge.

Justice J. B. Cox dismissed the charge late yesterday, on motion of D. G. Wettlin, deputy district attorney, after the 17-year-old daughter had testified. The girl was said to have walked all the way from El Toro to Santa Ana to cause her parent's arrest. Discrepancies in the girl's testimony, however, failed to link Silvas to the charge.

Attorney Z. B. West Jr., defended Silvas at the hearing.

8 INITIATIVE BILLS URGED ON VOTERS

(By United Press Leased Wire)
SACRAMENTO, June 3.—Petitions to place eight initiative measures on the ballot at the November elections are now being circulated among California counties.

One of the most widely known petitions is the one proposing introduction of the Bible into the school curriculum.

Alameda and San Francisco counties have filed petitions protesting against taxation of motor bus companies in excess of four per cent of gross receipts.

The State Fish and Game commission is sponsoring a measure to prohibit the construction of power dams on the Klamath river which would drive fish away from the stream.

Agricultural organizations are giving their support to a measure providing for legislative reapportionment. This is designed to give rural districts better representation in the state senate.

The measure of which Will C. Wood, superintendent of public instruction is the author, provides that surplus funds in the state treasury shall be apportioned among the several California counties.

Other measures for which petitions are being circulated are a People's Water and Power act, a single tax measure and one to legalize professional boxing in California.

News Briefs

Former students and faculty of the South Dakota State college will hold a reunion and picnic at Bixby park, Long Beach, Sunday, according to word received here today. All former students, graduates and their friends are being invited.

Forty boys, students at the Frances E. Willard junior high school here, were given the privilege of using the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium and swimming pool today, it being part of the program launched by the "Y" to acquaint the boys with the organization and to teach all boys in the city schools how to swim. Boys from other schools will be taken to the Y. M. C. A. daily the remainder of the week.

High school seniors here are experiencing some of the real thrills of commencement week, with the arrival of their commencement announcements and invitations. Baccalaureate and commencement tickets were being distributed to students and faculty and final plans for commencement June 20 and class day June 19 were being whittled into shape, according to announcement made by Principal D. K. Hammond and Lorraine Bove, senior class president.

Speeding up the building activity in Santa Ana, plans were announced today for the construction of a $5000 six-room stucco residence and garage at 813 South Van Ness avenue and a four-room stucco bungalow and garage at 414 East-side avenue at a cost of $3726. The larger house will be built by Alice and Homer Herzog and J. Farney of 202 South Birch street, and the bungalow will be constructed by C. E. Long of 1013 North Main street, according to City Building Inspector W. S. Decker, who issued the permits for both buildings.

Seth Bullock, Santa Ana mail carrier and secretary of the local order, International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees, has returned to his home here after attending the national convention of the organization at Cincinnati. He was the only delegate from Orange county. Following the convention, Bullock visited with relatives in Chicago, his former home city. He also stopped off in Kansas City.

GRAND JURY IN KIDNAP QUIZ

erick M. Griesheimer, uncle of Robert Franks, Chicago youth recently slain by kidnapers, and former husband of Lillian Lorraine, New York stage favorite, was today awaiting transfer to Leavenworth where he will spend the next eighteen months. Griesheimer was sentenced in federal court after he pleaded guilty to forging physicians' narcotic prescriptions. His present wife lives in Oakland.

AMERICA GAINS AS MILK USER, IS REPORT

CHICAGO, June 3.—America is becoming a nation of milk drinkers.

A survey just completed by the National Association of Ice Industries, shows that consumption of fluid milk and cream has had a phenomenal rise in recent years.

"This is disclosed in reports of boards of health in all cities and towns," the association declares. "It is also confirmed by latest statistics of the federal department of agriculture which show that the average consumption in farm and city homes last year was fifty-three gallons, compared with fifty gallons the year before, and forty-nine gallons in 1921. Last year the average daily consumption for each person was 1.16 pints.

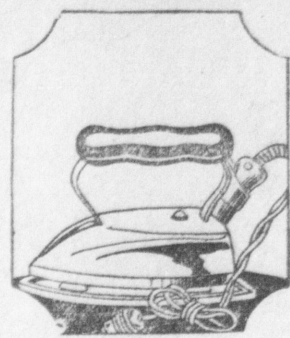

"With consumption steadily increasing, every precaution should be observed in the care of milk after it reaches the home. To such an end home economists, educational institutions and welfare groups have been carrying on scientific research.

"Surveys have shown colossal carelessness in many households. Milk is frequently left standing in a warm room or placed in a window box. Hence bacteria quickly multiply a thousand fold. Many billion may be present before the milk turns sour. Milk should be kept clean and cool in a well iced refrigerator. The bottle should be kept clean and the cap in place. Old milk and new should be kept separate. Spoiled, unclean milk means sick babies and children.

"Increased consumption of milk not only means prosperity for the dairy farmer but proves that the nation generally is awakening to the value of milk in the every-day diet. Health departments protect milk up to the time it reaches the housewife. After that she must assume full responsibility."

TWO H. S. GIRLS WIN LINQUIST AWARDS

Miss Persana Deimling today was enjoying the distinction of being the best French student in the local high school and college, while Miss Genevieve Orr bears the same title as a Spanish student.

These two girls were winners yesterday afternoon in a modern language contest held at the high school here in which students who had been chosen by their ability in a preliminary contest competed for two medals offered by language associations.

Natives of France and Spain came here from Los Angeles to judge the contest, which was an oral one and which consisted chiefly of conversation.

Miss Deimling will be awarded the medal offered by the French government, through the Alliance Francaise, and the presentation will take place at the Ebell clubhouse here June 8.

Miss Genevieve Orr will receive the medal offered by the American Association of Spanish Teachers.

Both girls will enter Southern California contests to be held in Los Angeles later this month. Miss Deimling to compete at the University of California in Los Angeles, June 13, for a Southern California prize, and Miss Orr, at the University of Southern California, June 17, for a similar award.

Other students who competed yesterday in the local school's contests and therefore considered the best language students in the school were: French, Overton Luhr, Miss Alla Neely, Miss Susie Temple, Miss Maxine Cornelius, Miss Margaret Carothers and Miss Louise Turner. Spanish, Miss Elizabeth Cleary, Milton Davis, Miss Lora Scaggs and Miss Margaret Gaebe.

The contests were arranged by Miss Lella Watson, head of the language department for the city schools.

Orange Crop at County Farm to Produce $20,000

The Orange county farm will produce an estimated orange crop of 6000 field boxes this year, with a probable revenue of $15,000 to $20,000, according to a report made informally to the board of supervisors today by Dr. H. E. Zaiser, superintendent of the farm.

Dr. Zaiser stated that 1800 boxes have just been picked from a grove of young trees on the ranch, representing their entire crop, while 1600 boxes were picked from a grove of older trees, upon which three-fourths of the crop still remains.

The county farm has thirty-five acres of orange grove, it is said.

ONE SLAIN IN FIGHT OVER LANGUAGE

(By United Press Leased Wire) SAN FRANCISCO, June 3.—Taunted by W. Stephens with his inability to speak English, Primitivo Rodriguez, Spaniard, seized an axe early today and killed the man who taunted him.

The murder occurred aboard the freighter Frank R. McCormick, at dock here. Rodriguez was arrested.

According to the story told by other members of the freighter's engine room crew, Rodriguez was describing an experience which had occurred last night.

Hampered by his ignorance of English in his attempt to give color to the narrative, he launched into Spanish. Stephens, unable to understand the language, chided Rodriguez.

"Aye speak English," he yelled at the Spaniard. An argument, in mixed Spanish and English, followed, then a fight. Rodriguez, according to the story told by fellow firemen, was getting the worst of it when he darted back, seized an axe and felled Stephens, killing him instantly.

Heathman's court on a charge of the illegal possession of intoxicating liquor, John Lopez today was lodged in the county jail here to "work out" his fine. Pete Soto, arrested on a similar charge, also declared his intention to "work out" his $50 fine. B. L. Vest and Harold Anderson paid $15 each on a charge of being drunk, and Jose H. Garcia paid $10 for the same alleged offense. Walter Walker, convicted of vagrancy, was sentenced to serve thirty days in jail.

Traffic violators were George W. Carey, $10 fine for speeding; F. Brody, $5 for turning his car in the middle of a downtown block; Joe A. Johns, $2 for parking on the wrong side of the street; W. H. Crawford, $2 for parking in a private driveway, and George Smith, $2 for parking in the restricted district.

C. E. Societies and 'Y' Here to Hold Big Social Affair

The united societies of Christian Endeavor here will join the Y. M. C. A. at the latter organization's building in providing a social affair Thursday night, to which young people of the city will be invited. Miss May Belle Thurston, chairman of the committee in charge of the entertainment, announced today.

Special features in art, music, stunts and singing will be presented by each Christian Endeavor society attending the entertainment, and the entire Y. M. C. A. building will be turned over to the merry-makers. The purpose of the meeting, it was stated, is to have all of the societies get acquainted, and for all to get acquainted with the Y.M.C.A.

The invitation is general. The entertainment will be the first of a series of young people's evenings at the "Y", given for the purpose of promoting mutual acquaintance among the members of various groups. Newcomers to Santa Ana are being especially invited to attend.

Delinquency Case Pair Before Court

William Hagerty, 25, oil worker of Huntington Beach, and Mrs. Pauline Chamberlain, 24, of that city, were scheduled to appear before Justice of the Peace C. W. Warner at Huntington Beach today to answer to charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor child.

According to Huntington Beach police, Hagerty and Mrs. Chamberlain, in disillable were found together with Mrs. Chamberlain's 5-year-old daughter at the Chamberlain home on Joliet avenue. Mrs. Chamberlain is said by officers to have an estranged husband living in Huntington Beach.

Herman Stafford, 20, Huntington Beach oil worker, arrested recently on a statutory charge against a 16-year-old high school girl, was today being held at the oil city in default of $3000 bail. A complaint was sworn out yesterday against Stafford by the girl's father. Stafford will have his preliminary hearing at Huntington Beach Monday afternoon.

Neptune's year is almost 165 times as long as our own.

ROADS TO CANYON AGAIN ARE OPENED

Further lifting of the foot and mouth quarantine was evidenced today by the announcement made by A. A. Brock, county director of agriculture, that several mountain roads heretofore closed during the epidemic would be reopened to traffic tomorrow.

The roads to be opened are those leading to Trabuco canyon and to the Modjeska ranch and other points reached through Santiago canyon. The San Juan Hot Springs road will be opened June 15.

W. P. McGee, foreman of the O'Neill ranch, stated that a dip would be maintained on the hot springs road between the ranch gate and the springs. Campers and picnickers will be barred from the O'Neill property, he said, a guard being stationed along the road to keep traffic moving.

Postpone Hearing in Pretense Case

Preliminary hearing of John Scott Jr., of La Habra, who is charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, was today continued by Justice J. B. Cox to July 31 at 10 a. m.

Both prosecution and defense, it was said, agreed to postponement to provide time for preparation.

Scott is charged by Fred Van Hagen, of Placentia, with securing a $3000 loan by making false representations regarding a cement company that Scott claimed to be promoting, according to Van Hagen.

Troy, Tenn.—Mrs. J. T. Roney, the wife of a prominent merchant here, near the shores of famous Reelfoot Lake, tells of an interesting experience she had with Cardui.

"One day, while talking to a customer," says Mrs. Roney, "I spoke of being so nervous and my back hurting me. She told me how much good Cardui had done her. I took home a bottle.

"After taking one bottle, I was less nervous and seemed stronger. I took three bottles at this time and it did me so much good.

"When I became... I was very weak. I had severe headaches and at night, I would cramp, have pains in my side and burnings in my limbs. I couldn't stand on my feet. I suffered so.

"I sent for a bottle of Cardui and I didn't suffer pain the next morning at all. I took two bottles then and two before the birth of my next baby. It is certainly a good tonic."

Cardui has been in use for almost fifty years, and in that time hundreds of thousands of women have written to tell of the great benefit it has been to them in many forms of common female ailments. Be sure to try it when you need a female tonic.

Delightful Features Mark Party Given At Walters Home

Like a brilliant carnival scene was the setting devised by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Walters for a delightful dancing and card party which they presented Saturday evening at their home, on North Parton street when seventy-five guests gathered at their invitation.

Mr. and Mrs. Walters were assisted in greeting their friends by Mrs. Walters' sister, Mrs. Pearl Madler. The lovely home was a bower of bloom with great spikes of gladioli used throughout the suite of three big rooms on the first floor, thrown together for dancing.

In the basement, a grotto effect was achieved by the lavish use of ferns and sunlax and there card tables were arranged under the light from countless Japanese lanterns. Mrs. Elton R. Koehn and Mrs. William J. Vanaken aided in the card rooms and beautiful prizes in hand-painted china and silver were given Miss Grace Peterson and Mrs. I. A. Mechem holding high score. Mrs. William Deen and William Vanaken, second and Mrs. William Iverson and R. V. Cox, low.

A three-piece orchestra with Ethel Troxell Thompson at the piano, played for the dancing on the first floor and both card players and dancers divided their time between their chosen amusements and the charm of the Walters garden where pergolas were lighted by Japanese lanterns and where countless flowers grew or were used in adornment.

Late in the evening a buffet supper of sandwiches, coffee, cake and ice cream was an enjoyable feature.

FRANCES WILLARD
To be presented under the auspices of the Frances Willard Junior high school P.T.A. is the happily-planned entertainment for Friday night at the school assembly room at 8 o'clock.

An active committee of which Miss Grace Smiley of the teaching staff is chairman, has had the preparation of the program in charge and an evening of diversified pleasures is promised. Many young people of the school will appear in readings, songs and clever humorous skits while the school orchestra will take a leading part.

Miss Georgia Bell Walton of the student body and recent winner in the county music contest, will give violin numbers while dainty dances will be executed by Miss Elizabeth Roehm, also a Frances Willard pupil. In addition to the school talent to be represented, the program will have delightful songs by Maurice Phillips and whistling numbers by Charles Stewart.

A very nominal admission will be asked, the proceeds to be added to the P.T.A. treasury.

LINCOLN
Tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock when Lincoln P.T.A. meets in the school kindergarten for the final session of the school year, it will be to enjoy a program prepared under the direction of Mrs. Merle Morris and a little group of mothers of the association.

All members are urged to be present and enjoy what promises to be a particularly pleasant program and social afternoon.

Music Recital

St. Ann's Inn will offer its spacious yet home-like lobby as setting for a most delightful musical event next Friday evening when two popular singers, Miss Ruth Frothingham and Miss Hively, will be joined by their teacher, Hulda Dietz of Los Angeles and their accompanist, Miss Ruth Armstrong, Santa Ana, will present a song recital.

The program will open at 8:15 o'clock and a cordial invitation has been issued the general public to attend. Miss Hively will present the opening group, choosing "Bon-jour Suzon" by Thome, Debussy's "Romance" and "Chanson de Florian" by Godard as her numbers.

Miss Frothingham's songs will be "Depuis le jour" by Charpentier, "Wings of Night" and "Let It Be Forgotten" by Winter Watts and Hageman's "At the Well."

Mrs. Dietz, teacher and lyric soprano, will then appear in an interesting group comprising two songs, "The Song of the Lark" by John Alden Carpenter and "Colored Toys" and "The Sleep that Flits on Baby's Eyes" and a Strauss "Serenade," after which a group of Mexican folksongs will be given by Miss Frothingham in costume assisted by Salomon Gonzales violin, and Esteban Rodriguez, cello. The group will consist of "La Nortena" by Robles, "Mi Viejo Amor" by Otero and "El Ceñero" and "La Paloma" arranged by Frank La Forge.

Miss Hively will bring the program to a close with "Calm is the Night," "Thine Eyes so Blue and Tender," "Dedication" and "Hayfields and Butterflies."

Trio of Maids Fete Miss Anderson at Aliso Rancho

Rancho Aliso, the lovely country home of the Angus J. Crookshanks, was the scene of a gay little dinner last night when the Misses Constance and Josephine Crookshank and Ethel Smallwood entertained in honor of Miss Isabel Anderson, soon-to-be-bride.

Dan Cupid with his arrows dominated the table where Cecil Brunner roses offered a floral setting for the little blond god in the center. Dainty brides in water colors, the clever work of Miss Smallwood, formed appropriate favors and the honored guest, the trio of gracious young hostesses, Miss Constance Crookshank, Miss Ethel Smallwood and Miss Josephine Crookshank, and Miss Persana Deimling, Miss Marjorie Tubbs, Miss Jean Griffith and Miss Thelma Patton.

During the course of the dinner the girls took pleasure in presenting Miss Anderson with a handsome blue silk pillow while Mrs. Angus J. Crookshank, assisting the trio of young hostesses, also gave the bride-elect a dainty betrothal gift, a handpainted cake plate.

During the evening a group of close friends of the young people dropped in informally for a series of lively games, the bowling alleys and billiard tables of the home offering amusement. The later arrivals included the Misses Margaret Carothers, Adelaide Spencer, Annie Tarver, Frances Crockett, Mabel Pruitt, Virginia Stewart, Alice Miller, Rebecca Budrow and Dorothy Cartwright.

Business Women's Club

Disappointed at the miscarriage of plans to hear Robert Brown in solo work at their Monday luncheon, Business and Professional Women assembled yesterday at St. Ann's Inn for their weekly meeting, had the unexpected pleasure of hearing Mr. Brown give a delightful little extemporaneous talk on Edinburgh with reminiscences of his boyhood days there.

Returning after a period of several years to that city which he left at the age of fourteen, Mr. Brown as a delegate to the Rotary International convention there, saw with eyes of manhood, the scenes of his boyhood and for the entertainment of the Business Women, traced his steps down historic Princes street, past the monument to Sir Walter Scott, past the monument to Abraham Lincoln erected by Edinburgh in loyal appreciation of a great American, past the birthplace of our John Knox—and the barber shop where small Robert Brown (did his mother call him "Wee Rabble"?) used to get his hair cut for four pence!

beyond the wonderful cathedral filled with interesting objects and none more so than the battle-scarred banners borne at Bannockburn and Flodden—on to famous Edinburgh Castle and the soul-stirring view to the North Sea and over the Firth of Forth.

Such was the street down which the little Scottish lad skipped daily and his studies were coded in a private school housed in an historic building where Oliver Cromwell once held council with his men.

Difference in school methods of the old world and the new were commented on by the speaker as well as the difference in business methods. In his own preparation for the business in which he is now engaged, as head of the Santa Ana Bookstore, Mr. Brown entered upon a five years' apprenticeship, six months devoted to office work, six to bookbinding, six more to country department, six to the city department and on through, the ramifications of the business and all at a "salary" of a dollar a month to begin on, later increased to a dollar seventy-five cents.

From childhood Mr. Brown's voice was recognized at its true worth, evidently, for his account of the time spent at rehearsals and musical studies as a choir boy in the Episcopal church in which he was reared, showed that he had been a soprano soloist in all the more important oratorios and gave from two to three hours daily to music study and practice.

Pictures of the careful thrift which ruled Scottish homes, of the simple pleasures of a lad whose spending money amounted to fifteen cents a week, of the happy home life of a large family—raised on porridge and milk and in reverent knowledge of the Bible—and a awesome fear of the rod—delighted each member of the club who joined in expressing their pleasure in the informal talk.

No important business matters were brought up by the president, Miss Mabel McFadden. Mrs. Olive Lopez was called upon for a report of the annual Social Service convention held last week at Long Beach and which she and Miss Teresa McDonough attended as delegates from the club. The report, while brief, was most interesting and touched the highlights of the session which was attended.

Miss Lena Thomas, chairman of the June program committee, announced that Mrs. Clara Cushman, Santa Ana's woman attorney and a member of the city planning commission, would be next Monday's attraction, and would speak on the work of the commission. Mr. Brown will return in two weeks to give the musical program rendered impossible yesterday by the sudden illness of his accompanist, Earl Fraser.

Program Outlined For First Two Days of Biennial

Amid a blaze of golden flowers, thousands of women from all sections of the United States, were today welcomed as guests of California, drawn hither by the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs opening today in Los Angeles for a ten day session.

Characterized as "California Day" the events, from the formal declaring of the convention open, by Mrs. Thomas Gerald Winter, this morning at 8 o'clock, to the organ recital to be staged tonight by Ray Hastings, were designed to offer a truly western welcome to the delegates.

Many local women were in attendance at today's opening and many more will attend the daily sessions, each offering so much of interest, as well as delightful social features. Tomorrow will bring in addition to routine business, reports from different committees during the morning hours and greetings from honorary vice-presidents, affiliated organizations and overseas unit in the afternoon hours.

In the evening will be a Ray Hastings organ recital at 7:30 o'clock followed by "state presidents' evening" and a program featuring songs by Gertrude Ross, sung by Eleanor Eastlake Maginnis, soprano with Miss Ross at the piano. Miss Maginnis will sing two early Spanish-California folk songs, "Carmela" and "Old Maid's Song," followed by a second group offering "Round-up Lullaby" and "Work; a Song of Triumph."

Each state president will be given the opportunity to speak on the topic, "The Greatest Club Asset of My State to Federation Work."

Thursday will bring a board of directors meeting early in the forenoon, followed by various talks and finally the president's recommendations and policies outlined by Mrs. Winter. Various luncheons will mark the noon intermission, including department of legislation, division of civil service and department of press and publicity, all at the Biltmore. In the afternoon the latter department will present an interesting program at the Philharmonic auditorium with many famous writers to appear.

In the evening following the usual organ recital with Arthur Blakelee at the organ will be a musical program and three interesting addresses, "Who Shall Inherit the United States?" by Oswald Ryan of Anderson, Ind.; "The Gentle Art of Journalism" by Princeton, Calcutta (Nellie Grant Sartoris) and a third by Rupert Hughes. The program will be given variety by violin numbers played by Jacques Gordon, concertmaster of the Chicago Symphony orchestra.

Ladies' Auxiliary

The American Legion auxiliary will hold its regular meeting Thursday evening, June 5, when returns from the poppy sale held last Thursday will be read and plans completed for the dance revenue to be given by Mrs. Maud Putnam's pupils at Laguna Beach, Friday evening, June 6. Every member is asked to make an effort to be present.

Stocks, Bonds, Markets and Financial News

WALL ST. JOURNAL FINANCIAL REVIEW

NEW YORK, June 3.—Price movements on the stock exchange today strengthened the belief entertained in high financial circles that a gradual upward movement in security prices will get under way when the present market has passed into history. President Coolidge's action in affixing his signature to the tax bill, eliminating the source of uncertainty, has further consideration for the present and Wall Street manifested its relief in a vigorous manifestation, its relief in the leading railroad and industrial stocks.

With the latest returns from Washington indicating that the senate would defeat the La Follette resolution, calling for a recess instead of adjournment, it appeared reasonably certain that congress would be moved from the immediate economic picture by the end of the week.

Statements issued by various industrial leaders indicated that the business reaction was at its lowest ebb and that representative stocks like Baldwin, General Electric, American Can, Studebaker and the Steel Corporation, were coming back from the recent lows on the prospect of appreciable improvement in commercial conditions over the next few months.

Shorts became increasingly nervous over the strength displayed by the market and further short covering in the final dealings resulted in a buoyant close in the general list. General Electric was a sensational feature, running up to 65 1/2, a net gain of more than 10 points. General Electric reached new high ground on the movement at 22 1/2, Baldwin at 11 1/2, and Pullman at 12 1/2.

The market closed higher.

Closing prices included:

U. S. Steel 95 1/2, up 1 1/2; Baldwin 11 1/2, up 1 1/2; American Can 10 1/2, up 1/2; General Electric 65 1/2, up 1 1/2; International Paper 45 1/2, up 1/2; Atlantic Coast Line 12 1/2, up 1/2; C. & O. 7 1/2, up 1/2; N. & W. 12 1/2, up 1/2.

Discussions of the class, the Algal says "the 1924 graduating class of the Santa Ana junior college is the largest in the history of the college. The number, although startling numerically, is significant to the future of our institution. Practically without exception these students are men and women who have seen many advantages of junior college and stayed here two years because there was no college which they would rather attend. They have wisely availed themselves of our splendid faculty, the benefits of our smaller classes, of our affiliation with the University of California, or our high standing, and our good fellowship."

"It is not too much to expect that this class, double that of last year, will demonstrate to outside students and numerous advantages of the Santa Ana junior college for the first two years of college work. The occasion of graduation of this splendid class is the first big step towards the junior college of the future, with its own building and equipment, and large student body—perhaps even the University of California, Santa Ana branch."

"Certainly this group of graduates will be the forerunner of the bigger and better junior college of the next few years. The whole college unites in tribute to their scholastic record, to their school leadership and to their enviable achievements."

PRICES IRREGULAR ON CHICAGO BOARD

CHICAGO, June 3.—Grains had an uneven finish on the Board of Trade today.

Liquidation by tired longs toward the close caused wheat prices to drop to a new low level for the day. Corn, active buying kept corn fractionally higher; this buying was in the face of heavy Argentine shipments.

Oats held firm and closed showing no net change.

Provisions finished irregular.

DEFENSE OPENS IN TRUNK DEATH CASE

(By United Press Leased Wire)
LOS ANGELES, June 3.—Launching the first offensive in his defense plea for Mrs. Margaret Willis, on trial here for the murder of Dr. Benjamin Baldwin, Attorney S. S. Hahn this morning attempted to prove that the slain physician was a man of violent temper.

Several witnesses were called who told of Dr. Baldwin's arrest near here early this year. Judge Crall would not permit details of circumstances surrounding the arrests to go to the jury.

Evidence also was introduced to show that Dr. Baldwin weighed approximately 170 pounds, the defense argument being that "Sonny" Willis, who is said to have moved the "murder trunk," could not have lifted it if it had contained the body of Dr. Baldwin.

S. A. FOLK GET BILLS FOR TAX ON INCOME

Bills for the second installment of income taxes which will be due June 15 were mailed to 200,000 Southern California taxpayers and were in the mails of Santa Anas today.

Rex B. Goodcell, collector of internal revenue at Los Angeles has been deluged with inquiries as to whether or not the flat reduction in taxes on 1923 incomes, which is provided by the new revenue bill, could be used as a credit on the tax installment which must be paid on or before June 15, according to word he sent here.

"The new revenue bill is in the hands of the President and we are still operating under the revenue act of 1921," Collector Goodcell said in answer.

"Taxpayers should promptly pay this second installment or under the law they become liable to penalties and the entire amount of tax automatically becomes due. In other words they will forfeit the right to pay in installments."

"While I have not been advised as to the official procedure to be followed in allowing the 25 per cent reduction, undoubtedly it will take effect with the fourth or final installment due December 15, thereby wiping out the payment of that installment. This would be the logical procedure as it would not be businesslike to give credit for the reduction while the taxpayer still owes the government three quarterly installments."

Collector Goodcell, he said, also had received telegraphic information from the commissioner of internal revenue to the effect that in view of the recent action of Attorney General Stone, withdrawing the Daugherty opinion stating that income from community property is divisible for the state of California, all action relative to refunds on both income and estate taxes will be held in abeyance pending further consideration by the attorney general.

Trustee Requests Funds Accounting of Beach Chamber

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 3.—An accounting of funds used by the local Chamber of Commerce was last night asked by the local city trustees in reply of a recent request of the chamber of commerce for a donation from the city for $1,000. William Wharton, trustee, declared that he had not seen any literature, or anything which would advertise the town, and the only mention of the chamber in the papers was an account of their weekly luncheons. According to Wharton, the chamber of commerce here was in possession of about $7000 last fall. "No benefit being evident to me,

I, for one would like to see an accounting of these funds," he stated. Members of the council asked that a financial report be made by the chamber of commerce to determine what they have done and what they have not done. J. A. Armistead, secretary of the local chamber of commerce, stated this morning that a complete report would be made to anyone who desired it. He further stated that he believed that the local chamber of commerce "had done as much as any other similar organization in Orange county if not more."

Co-ordination

FROM fragments, isolated and small, science can reconstruct the great creations of nature. A fossil bone reveals a race of giant lizards. A fern frond embedded in limestone tells of a prehistoric forest. A skull dug from a bed of a river clay records whole chapters in human history.

But rarely can man's handiwork, composite in its elements, be thus imagined from any of its parts. Considered alone, a tiny carbon granule from the telephone transmitter cannot even hint of the complex instrument. Only as part of a co-ordinated mechanism has this little unit its full significance.

The telephone needs of the nation require a service national in scope and operation. Men, materials and money on a vast scale are essential. Practical co-ordination of the numberless human and mechanical agencies indispensable to the service is possible only through a nationwide organization. This the Bell System provides.

DEATH PENALTY HEARD TWICE BY SLAYER

(By United Press Leased Wire)
LOS ANGELES, June 3.—A. F. Champion, formerly of Fort Worth, Texas, was today sentenced by Judge Carlos B. Hardy to be hanged August 15 at San Quentin for the murder of J. E. Goldy during a gambling game here two years ago.

This was the second time the death penalty has been pronounced over Champion, a re-sentence being necessary following denial of a plea for a new trial.

The prisoner, standing handcuffed before the court, received his sentence without emotion. His face blanched, and the long red scar on his cheek, which led to his capture following the murder, stood out in vivid relief.

Champion's mother, who testified at his trial that he was with her the night the murder was committed, was not in the courtroom. She was charged with perjury as a result of her testimony, but was subsequently acquitted.

Champion at one time was a resident of Cleveland.

Miss Marjorie Edmunds, sophomore, will substitute for Miss Rust.

Talbert

TALBERT, June 3.—On Thursday evening the graduating exercises for the class of six who have completed the eighth grade of the Fountain Valley school district was held.

The class roll bore the names of Evelyn Goul, Kenneth Goode, Jimmie Gardner, Danny Hotzke, Kasaki Tamura, and the chosen class colors were blue and gold.

Decorations in the school auditorium where the graduation occurred was of palm leaves and bouquets of carnations and Shasta daisies.

A large crowd which taxed the capacity of the hall was present to congratulate the young people on their graduation and to enjoy the splendid program.

On the program was a group of songs sung by members of the graduating class and the seventh grade pupils assisted by others from the fifth and sixth grades; class poem by Evelyn Goul; patriotic poem, Kasaki Tamura; class will by Danny Hotzke; song Jimmie Gardner, Kenneth Goode and Joe Rodriguez; play, "Ten Years From Now on Fifth Avenue, New York," Jimmie Gardner and Harry Titus; drill, Martha Wardlow, Rachel Lamb and Dorothy Culver.

The address of the evening was made by Prof. B. F. Deswick of Tustin who presented the graduates with their diplomas.

Closing the program "America" was sung by the audience.

The Fountain Valley school term closed on Thursday and in observance of the occasion a number of the patrons of the school gathered to visit the school on this day and also enjoyed, with the teachers and children, a social luncheon. Three long tables were spread on the porch and these were filled to overflowing with a tempting array of sandwiches, salads, pickles, cocoa and lemonade which repast was done full justice by.

The closing exercises for the school were held a few nights previously and a number of interesting features of songs, recitations, etc., were enjoyed by the large number of patrons and friends who were present.

Mr. and Mrs. John Shutt jr. attended the Memorial services held by the members of the E. A. B. at Huntington Beach Friday and Shutt also joined in the American Legion services at Fairhaven cemetery the same day.

Miss Olive Swift of Long Beach, a niece of A. F. Swift of this place, spent Thursday night and the Memorial day holiday as a guest at the Swift home.

Mrs. George M. Gardner was ill at her home several days and was unable Thursday evening to attend the graduation of the local grammar school class of which her son was a member.

Mr. and Mrs. Chesley Hill's baby has been very ill. It had convulsions for a time but was improving at the last report.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Desmukes of Santa Ana were entertained at dinner Thursday evening at the home of their niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ward.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ward and three children motored to Redlands Sunday where they visited two families of former Oklahoma friends. It had been about four years since the families were neighbors in the East, and they enjoyed the opportunity to be together again greatly. A drive to some of the beauty spots about Redlands was a part of the day's program.

Mrs. Gerow who has established a beauty parlor at Long Beach spent several days the past week at the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. Burley. Mrs. Gerow has been on the sick list but is now recovered.

Mr. and Mrs. John Shutt jr. entertained at dinner on Wednesday evening Mr. Shutt's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gardner and four daughters and the former's mother, Mrs. Sarah Gardner of Bolsa and Mrs. Draper's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Draper and a total daughter Patty of Santa Ana.

A number of local people attending the funeral of Miss Lorena Daetweiler whose sudden death came as a shock to this community in which she so recently made her home. Miss Daetweiler, who was twenty-one years of age, was ill but four days. Death occurred at the family home at Huntington Beach. The funeral was held at Compton where the burial took place in the cemetery which is located near the birth place of the deceased. The local friends and all those from this county accompanied the body from the Mission funeral home in Santa Ana to the cemetery.

Lorena Daetweiler was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Daetweiler and besides her parlands leaves two brothers, John and Clarence, the latter a high school student, and a sister, Vera, of grammar school age.

Mrs. Dahlia Swift accompanied her aunt, Mrs. F. D. Plavan, and cousin, Mrs. Alma Meade to Los Angeles Thursday. Mrs. Swift's little daughter and Mrs. Meade's small son remained for the day with Mrs. A. F. Swift during their mother's absence.

The month of May has proved a hoodoo month for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ward. Fire, flood, crop failure, and a "friendly call" on Judge Heathman, of Santa Ana, having featured in the family fortunes of late.

The last mentioned, the result of a fifteen minute infringement of the parking rules, started the Earl Gardner and four daughters and the former's mother, Mrs. Sarah Gardner of Bolsa and Mrs. Draper's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Draper and a total daughter Patty of Santa Ana.

A wreck made of the top, upholstery and paint as a result. A group of men at the Leclair ranch adjoining the Ward home ran the car into the orchard when summoned by Mrs. Ward who discovered the blaze, and there turned the hose on it, saving an explosion of the fifteen gallons of oil in the tank. Besides the damage to the car, which carried $350 insurance, a fur cape of Mrs. Ward's, three pairs of gloves, lap-robes, sun glasses and a purse were all lost. In the latter was a small purse containing $5 which was salvaged from the flames.

Next on the list of disasters came the "flood." Mrs. Ward turned the kitchen tap on one day only to find it dry and on leaving the room did not think to close it. Two hours and a half later a neighbor came to her in the yard where she had been working during the time to call her, telling her the house was flooded as the pump had been started in the meantime, filling the tank.

Every room in the house with the exception of the dining room was flooded and rugs, linoleum, paint and varnish all suffered. Last on the list of misfortunes comes the loss of thirteen acres of peppers which proved a failure owing to a hard rain directly following the planting of the seed and the destruction of the remainder of the plants by worms later. Ward is plowing the land again to plant beans.

In proportion to population Sweden has nine times as many telephones as France.

The largest perfect bell is in a temple at Osaka, Japan. It is 24 feet high and weighs 200 tons.

CHOOSE CHORAL UNION FINANCE EXECUTIVES

Miss Edith Cornell, Miss Ruth H. Frothingham, Fred C. Rowland and Merle F. Morris, Santa Ana, and H. Glen Merrill, Anaheim, it was learned here today, at the annual meeting of the Orange County Choral Union, held here last night, were appointed as a committee to maintain contact between the production end of the union and the business management.

Appointment of the committee, it was explained, signaled complete separation of the production and financial management of the musical organization.

Business management is to be under direction of a board of directors composed of business men of the county. The director membership will contain two representatives each from Santa Ana, Anaheim, Orange and Fullerton and one from Huntington Beach. Organization of this board is in the hands of D. Eymann Huff, who was named as chairman some time ago. Huff announced that he expected in a few days to be in position to disclose the personnel of the board.

The board of directors will be fully responsible for the financial success of the organization. Huff said, adding that the committee named by the union last night would be represented at meetings of the board but would have no voice in official transactions. The committee, Huff said, will advise with the board as to productions contemplated.

"Separation of the financial and production features of the operations of the Orange County Choral Union," Rowland declared, "leaves the player members of the organization free to devote themselves entirely to production and thus will give them opportunity to better perfect plays."

"There is a probability of developing a series of operas the coming season for presentation to be made in various sections of the county."

At the meeting last night it was agreed that until the opening of school next fall no attempt should be made to present a musical play. Many members are teachers in the city schools and would be away from the city during the summer.

A request made by the Ebell club for a concert to be given Monday night was rejected by the union because there was not time enough intervening to permit of proper rehearsals.

Absence of a quorum prevented action on a new constitution.

SECRET PROFIT SCHEME LAID TO PROMOTER

Inflated values in mining claims, by which a promoter was alleged to have sought to make a small fortune in secret profits, formed the accusations made by W. R. Rittenhouse, against George L. Keller, mining promoter, in a suit for $2000 on file today in the superior court here.

That Keller represented to investors in a mining company he was promoting that he had paid $50,000 for the Gray Eagle claim in the Rand mining district of San Bernardino county, and would transfer it to the new company for that sum, whereas he had actually paid but $12,500 and hoped to make a secret profit of $37,500, was the charge made by Rittenhouse, who says he invested $2000 in the venture.

The $2000 was lost, Rittenhouse declared, when the company collapsed because of Keller's asserted attempt at deception.

Attorneys Donaghey and Smith, of this city, represent Rittenhouse in the action.

Wife Deserted by Fullerton Orange Packer, Suit Plea

William L. Benchley, prominent Fullerton orange packer, was made defendant today in a suit for divorce on file in the superior court here.

Mrs. Belle J. Benchley, the plaintiff, charged him with desertion. Her suit was filed through Attorney Marks, Launer and Collins, of Fullerton.

Benchley, who is general manager of the Benchley Fruit company, resides at the California hotel, in Fullerton. Mrs. Benchley lives at 321 North Pomona avenue, that city.

The Benchleys were married in San Diego June 26, 1906, and separated May 23, 1923, according to Mrs. Benchley's petition. They have one son, Edward, 17, who lives with his mother.

LAUNCH TRIAL OF GIRL CASE DENTIST

With the courtroom crowded and standing space at a premium, the trial of Dr. R. E. Whitted, Santa Ana dentist, who is charged with a statutory offense against a 17-year-old local girl, opened at 10 a. m. here today in superior court before Judge W. C. Drumm.

Many women were among the spectators who gathered at the trial.

Dr. Whitted and his wife were seated by the dentist's attorneys, Bishop, Davis and Bagby, when the examination of jurors began. Lecompte Davis, Los Angeles criminal attorney, conducted the examination for the defense.

Pitted against this galaxy of legal talent were District Attorney A. P. Nelson and his chief deputy, C. N. Mozley, indicating that the state has concentrated its full strength in prosecution of the case.

Questions directed to prospective jurors by Attorney Davis dealt chiefly with possibility of prejudice from what the juror might have heard or read regarding the case.

One prospective juror, Roy West, of Santa Ana, was excused when he said that if he was in the defendant's place he would rather be tried by jurors who had heard nothing about the case.

West said he had heard considerable discussion of it.

Industrial Development in Santa Ana

Do you as a citizen or property owner desire industries for Santa Ana?

Is Santa Ana located advantageously to attract industries?

Do industries just come to a city or is it necessary to have a leader to promote their locating? One who will stake his reputation, time, energy and money to that end.

Do your Chambers of Commerce co-operate to help locate industries in Santa Ana? Do we get the Standard American Glass

Company? And if so when and on what terms? The answer to the last question is "Yes, positively." They are building now and they are entirely financed. They will spend hundreds of thousands and will employ hundreds of people. You say, "How come?" Wait I'll tell you. It's a story in itself. # PROPERTY SOLD TO STATE FOR TAXES TWICE 1923 TOTAL

Delinquent List Contains 100 Per Cent Greater Valuation This Year INVOLVE 8500 PARCELS Defaulted Payments Due on Oil Land Blamed For Huge Increase

Orange county property to be declared sold to the state this year for non-payment of taxes will be more than double that of last year, both in valuation and in number of parcels, it was made known today after J. C. Lamb, county tax collector, publisher of the delinquent tax list.

"There will be approximately 8500 sales this year, as compared to 4232 sales last year," Lamb stated.

"This year's delinquent list represents a valuation estimated to be $113,714.74.

Many Oil Lots "This increase is almost entirely to oil sub-divisions, which occupy fully half of the delinquent list. Many oil lots are allowed to go delinquent because of a misunderstanding on the part of their purchasers, who expect the previous owners to pay the taxes."

The "sale" of delinquent property to the state consists merely of a declaration of sale. Lamb made clear, explaining that such property is held five years by the state and may be redeemed within that time. If not redeemed then, it is sold. Accordingly there are only twenty-two pieces of property in the county that will be actually placed on the auction block this year, Lamb said.

This is property that has been on the delinquent list five years.

Auction June 25

Lamb will conduct the auction, he said, in his office June 26 at 10:30 a. m. The properties to be auctioned were listed in an addenda to the delinquent tax list.

Lamb called attention to notes in the delinquent list, as published, referring to property to be offered for sale. The notes, he explained, refer only to the property listed just above the notes. Some misunderstanding, he said, had existed on that point.

BRIGHTEN BROADWAY LIGHTS PREPARATORY TO VISIT OF S. A. BEAUTY MEET WINNER

At left—Miss Nellie May Chapman, Santa-Ana high school senior, who has entered the ranks of fair contenders for the Moose beauty and popularity prize.

At right—Miss Joy Smith, also of this city, who hopes to win the big free trip to New York City which is the prize in the Moose beauty and popularity contest ending next month.

White lights along Broadway in New York are being made a bit more dazzling preparatory to receiving "Miss Santa Ana" and hundreds of beauties of other cities, according to a telegram received here today by Frank M. Brown, who is in charge of the popularity and beauty contest being conducted by Santa Ana lodge No. 1025, Loyal Order of Moose.

Other portions of the telegram, which was sent by the supreme convention committee, read as follows:

"On to Broadway, is the slogan for the beauty and popularity contest which is assuming gigantic proportions with additional entertainment features being planned daily. M. A. Rasko, the eminent artist, will paint a life-size portrait of the winner who is chosen queen, and present it to her. ## Rankin Society Will Parade on 1924 Picnic Day

When a prolonged blast of automobile horns is heard downtown at about 4:15 Thursday and a parade of happy, shouting men, women and children in cars with attractive pennants causes shoppers to gaze in wonder, employees of the Rankin Drygoods company, and their families and invited friends, will be on their way to Orange county park to hold the annual picnic of the store's Co-operative society.

The store will close at 4 p. m. Thursday. A baseball game in which men and women will play and various games and a spelling contest are to precede the "feeb," which is being planned by Mrs. W. E. Meyers.

The Co-operative society is comprised of all persons on the payroll, and meets every Thursday at 8 a. m. to discuss matters of interest. Charity and general welfare work also are given a place in the activities of the organization. To aid in the pleasures of the society, it was learned the store officials make a monthly donation of $25 to the organization.

H. B. LIFE GUARD NAMED HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 3.—Harry Lee, life guard here for the past two years, was last night reappointed to the position of life guard for the summer under the jurisdiction of Chief of Police John Tinsley. Lee, who has saved many lives in the surf here during the past two years, is a well known figure on the beach and has had the distinction of pulling one small child from the surf near the pier already this season. On account of the early start of the swimming season this year it was decided to put the life guard on at once, and the beach will be protected daily from now until late in the fall.

An acre of grass should yield one to two tons of hay.

10 ARRESTS IN S. A. DAILY IS POLICE MARK

Chief Points to Monthly Record As Evidence His Department Alert

Authorities attached to the department of City Marshal L. Claude Rogers averaged ten arrests a day for the month of May, a count of the police "blotter" showed today, and the "city's finest," each member admitted, would give their last hat to apprehend persons responsible for a large number of robberies in Santa Ana last week.

"Figures don't mean much to many persons," Rogers went on to say, "but to us they dispose our record for the past month is one of which we may be proud. But that's only half of it. During the month seven automobiles were reported stolen and seven automobiles were recovered by the local authorities."

Other Records "Furthermore, out of a dozen bicycles reported stolen we returned six to the rightful owners and we still have eight bikes at the police station that are unclaimed."

The monthly report shows that of the 310 arrests made during May, 297 were ordered to appear in City Recorder W. F. Heathman's court, and of that number those who paid fines enriched the city $1364.35. Four other persons arrested by the police were tried in the court of the justice of the peace, seven were remanded to the juvenile authorities and two were arrested for other cities.

The most popular offense, according to the city marshal, is violating traffic ordinances, and 255 motorists were arrested on such charges. Twenty went to jail as drunks.

Few Taken As "Vags" "As for the alleged thieves in Santa Ana," Rogers continued, "one arrest was made for burglary, one for grand larceny and eight for petit larceny."

"Few persons who come to Santa Ana are unable to secure work of some kind, as there were only seven persons arrested on charges of vagrancy during last month."

Most of the traffic offenders were arrested by patrolmen for violating parking ordinances, although the "speed cops" arrested thirty-one motorists for traveling too fast through the city. Five motorists were certified to the city recorder's court for having no tail lights, four drove with out open, another four were charged with reckless driving and there were fifty-six other violations of various parts of the state motor vehicle act.

Evangelist Will Tell Church Aim

With the first evangelistic meeting held last night at the South Side Church of Christ marked by a good attendance, members today were looking forward to tonight's gathering when the Rev. O. M. Reynolds of Ontario, evangelist, will speak on "What the Church of Christ Stands For." The subject last night was "Bringing the Lost to Christ."

"The Gospel is the power of God unto salvation," the Rev. Mr. Reynolds told the congregation last night, in explaining that he relied upon this theory for conviction and conversion.

At the meetings, which are being held in the new church building at 1137 South Broadway, C. R. Brewer is directing the song service. The public is being invited.

PLAYERS IN "THREE WISE FOOLS" WARN AGAINST TAKING PASSING LIFE SERIOUSLY

WOULD KEEP UP OLD CEMETERY LOTS HERE

Offering a possible solution to proper care of the old Santa Ana cemetery, H. J. Forgy, attorney for the Santa Ana Land company, owners of a large number of lots in the old section of the city burial grounds, today stated that the company is willing to assume the obligation of caring for all of the grounds or contiguous portions if funds can be raised for paying the actual cost of care.

The statement was developed in connection with discussions as to the agreement between the Santa Ana Masonic Cemetery association and the land company for care of the Masonic grounds in the old plot. Correcting the impression that the Masonic grounds had been placed under perpetual care, Forgy said the Santa Ana Land company had merely entered into an agreement with the Masons to take care of the section for a period of five years, the agreement to be terminated by either party on sixty days' notice.

"Placing of the old cemetery under perpetual care would be too expensive—in fact, it would be prohibitive," Forgy stated.

The company has a large number of lots in the grave yard and, Forgy said, it would be glad to co-operate with other owners in developing plans by which the company could take over care of the lots.

"We would be willing to do the work at actual cost," added the attorney.

"I don't know what the probable cost would be a year for each lot," said Forgy. "That would have to be determined by practical demonstration."

The Santa Ana Land company now is engaged in improvement work on the Masonic plot. Copings have been removed and other work is being done preparatory to sodding the grounds.

The Masonic Cemetery association has created an endowment fund that will guarantee perpetual care of the section, according to A.

"In this day of the problem play, the realistic, the sordid, a play like 'Three Wise Fools' comes as refreshing nourishment to the palates of a jaded public." Miss Mona Summer Smith, leading woman in the comedy which the Santa Ana Community Players' association will present at the Temple theater here the nights of June 9 to 12, declared today.

"Maintaining the highest standards for their audiences and their actors, the Santa Community players, nevertheless, believe in sugar-coating the pill of propaganda, in serving its philosophy in the most attractive form and are doing their share in helping the people of Santa Ana to avoid the unforgivable sin of taking this passing world too seriously."

"So we shall laugh with 'The Three Wise Fools' at their quaint eccentricities, thrill to the dramatic note struck by 'Benny the Duck,' ex-convict, and rejoice at the 'live' happy forever after which leaves us again with the 'all's well that ends well' feeling and helps us for a time to forget life's tragic little absurdities."

"With the presentation of 'The Three Wise Fools' the Community players will close a most successful season. To Ernest Crozier Phillips, director, and to his co-director, George Gerwing, must be given the credit for the artistic productions and the finished work of the actors."

"Harry Brackett, who is well known for his versatility and unfailingly excellent work, is playing Theodore Findly, the financier. Samuel R. Wyvil, a newcomer to the Players, is bringing to the part of Dr. Richard Gaunt an intelligent interpretation and a sincere enthusiasm seldom found on the amateur stage, and H. G. Miller, as Judge Trumbull, gives a sympathetic performance that is most satisfying."

"Robert Paine, whose former appearances with the Players have proved his ability as an actor, is bringing new enthusiasm and finish to the youthful role of Gordon Schuyler. The work of George Gerwing as Benjamin Suratt, alias 'Benny the Duck,' is nothing short of professional."

"As rehearsals reach the final and finishing week with Ted R. Griggs ably handling the part of John Crawshaw, Warren Fletcher a perfect detective in the guise of Poole, Joe Peterson, a suave finished butler known as Gray, Albert Sheets as Clancey a bluff policeman looking and acting the part, Claire Hansen as Douglas and with Mrs. H. H. Reeves and Mona Summer Smith carrying the only feminine roles, the play, 'Three Wise Fools' promises to be one of the biggest successes of the season and a real treat and inspiration to lovers of the theater."

Find Dirk on Man Jailed as Drunk

After arresting Y. Arbola on a charge of being drunk, near the corner of Fifth and Artesia streets yesterday, Patrolman O. D. Brothers searched his prisoner and found a "mean-looking dirk" concealed in the man's clothing. The dangerous weapon will be displayed in the recorder's court when Arbola has his hearing late today, officers said.

TRUSTEES AUCTION BUILDING HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 3.—Spirited bidding was one of the features of the city trustees' meeting here last night when a house on city property on Fifth street was put up for sale. The building was disposed of to E. F. Beard of Wintersburg for the sum of $375. The building must be moved within a period of ten days. Other bids included one from C. O. Cooper for $600, but inasmuch as the bid provided for the moving of the building into the fire district, it was refused.

Dozens of magnificent sapphires, some weighing up to half a pound and worth $15,000 each in the rough, are reported to have been found recently in a rice field in Ceylon.

A map more than 200 feet long, claimed to be the largest in the world, was recently exhibited in London.

Accident Verdict Is Returned Here in Woman's Death

A coroner's jury here decided that Mrs. Elizabeth Temer, colored, of Los Angeles, died Sunday afternoon of a fractured skull which was caused by the accidental overturning of the automobile in which she was riding and which was struck by another automobile unknown to the jury. The inquest was held late yesterday at the Winbiger undertaking parlors.

Mildred Dotson, 14-year-old daughter of Mrs. Temer, who sustained internal injuries and a broken thigh bone, today was reported as progressing satisfactorily after having passed a dangerous crisis. The injured girl will soon recover, according to the county hospital authorities here.

The accident occurred at 4 p. m. Sunday when the touring car owned by M. F. Johnson of Los Angeles, and containing two women, a man and two children, rolled over several times on the San Diego highway near the southern border of Orange county. Mrs. Temer and her daughter were crushed the first time the automobile turned over, while the other occupants were thrown clear of the machine, thus escaping injury.

BEACH RECORDER REPORTS HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 3.—City Recorder C. W. Warner last night reported that a total of $389.50 had been taken in by his court during the month. Motor fines for the month amounted to $182 and other fines $207.50.

There is nothing on earth whiter than newly fallen snow.

BUT 68 OF 2646 COUNTY GIRLS WANT TO BE MARRIED, IS VIEW TOLD

981 Would Teach and 405 Desire Typist Jobs, Is Questionnaire Check

11 GOING TO FARMS

Overwhelming Majority of Feminine Students Seek Business Careers

Married life for 2646 Orange county girls? "Not much," literally answered in union 2573 of the fair ones. "But 981 of us want to be school teachers, another 450 of our group would be stenographers and 21 aspire to be beauty parlor experts."

All this was revealed today to the agricultural education committee of the Orange county farm bureau which asked high and graded schools girls point blank what they had in mind for their careers.

Only 68 of the 2646 girls sending in completed questionnaires would be wives and mothers by choice. The movies can take fifty-three girls if they want them. Eight are carving out a religious work career.

Farm Lures Few

The farm bureau committee has virtually completed its check. The purpose of the questionnaire was to determine how many students would continue in agricultural schools. Eleven girls declared they would be farmettes.

The committee recently announced the results of the boys' survey, which showed most youths wanted to become engineers. A small proportion desired to till the soil.

Orange county school children in the future will never suffer for the need of a school teacher if the life ambition of 981 girls are realized.

But of all the girls questioned by the committee, only sixty-eight signified their intentions of becoming wives and mothers after their school days are over.

Trend Toward Business

The ever increasing flow of the woman into the business world is heavily reflected in Santa Ana schools, and the report shows a startling lack of would-be home makers.

According to the report, 405 girls chose to become stenographers and 236 want to be bookkeepers. There were 208 girls who would sign to be nurses after school days and 131 stated their intentions of becoming musicians.

Following is the vocations the other school children chose as reported in the survey:

Architects, 29; artists, 80; dress-makers, 67; interior decorators, 26; journalists, 41; lawyers, 14; librarians, 38; milliners, 24; doctors, 8; secretaries, 61; social service workers, 5; farmers, 11; miscellaneous, 45; undecided, 75.

Kellogg's Bran did more in two weeks than medicine taken in 20 years

Out of regard for your own health, read this letter:

Gentlemen:

Your "Krumpled Bran," used by me as a cereal, has done more for me in two weeks than the hundreds of dollars' worth of medicine I have taken in last twenty years for constipation. It is wonderful, and it is so simple.

Yours truly,
Arlington H. Carman,
Palo Alto, N. Y.

Mr. Carman's experience has been duplicated in thousands of homes. Why does Kellogg's Bran succeed where drugs and pills fail? The answer is simple. Drugs have an unnatural effect upon the bowels. They irritate the intestines. The more they are used, the more one has to use. Finally, they have no effect at all.

Kellogg's Bran STIMULATES the intestines. It cleans, sweeps and purifies them. It acts exactly as nature acts. And it is never necessary to increase the amount eaten. If eaten regularly, Kellogg's Bran is guaranteed to bring permanent relief to the most chronic cases of constipation, or your grocer returns your money. For Kellogg's Bran is ALL bran. Nothing but ALL bran can be so effective. That is why doctors recommend Kellogg's.

The wonderful, nut-like flavor of Kellogg's Bran is exclusive. It is delicious—totally unlike ordinary bran. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Eat it with milk or cream and in the recipes on every package. Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumpled, is made in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers.

To preserve the natural beauties of the great routes of travel of the Pacific Coast, we have removed all of these signs, 1200 in number, from the highways.

DISASTER ENDS FAMOUS OLD SEA CRAFT

PORTLAND, Ore., June 3.—Report that local owners are considering selling the wrecked sailing ship Reuce, now in Japanese waters, indicates that the end of one more of the famous old windjammers that sailed the ocean 40 years ago is at hand.

The Reuce was blown ashore February 10 at Suruga bay, Japan. In the terrific gale part of her rigging was carried away, and a few planks on her bow were stove in, but the hull is still sound enough to serve as a barge, according to survivors.

Of the square-rigged sailor type that won favor in following the trade winds around the world, the Reuce, built in 1881 at Kennebunk, Me., was one of the favorites of her first days on the seas. Her hull is 223 feet—long and she is registered at 1,601 tons net.

She was a typical product of the Maine shipyards of those days. Pinned together with wooden tunnels, her frame was solid and seaworthy. She didn't get away-backed and unsound with the progress of time, as many of the metal-fitted hulls of later days have done.

For many years she followed the trades around the world. But with the coming of the steamer and war, her useful place on the high seas was passing. She was then purchased by the Columbia River Packers' association and used as a cannery tender for the annual run to Alaska waters.

She served a number of years in that capacity, but there too the march of time gradually made her more obsolete.

At last this relic of the romantic days of the sea was relegated to the inactive life, and she was tied up in the Columbia river.

For nearly two years she lay idle, until rising freight rates and tightening of lumber space in the trans-Pacific marine trade brought a purchaser, who stowed her full of lumber and dispatched her to the Orient.

On her first trip she had the untimely accident. Hurling on the rocks where a steel hull would have been punctured and sunk, her pliant timbers withstood the shock. However the shock was sufficient to strike her forever from Lloyd's register as one of the year's losses.

Old heads on the waterfront here who knew the vessel for years now say it was a misapprehension—no obsolete craft—quite simply brought the proud old sailor to her end.

FATHER RICARD SAYS JUNE TO BE WARM

SANTA CLARA, June 2.—Father Ricard of the University of Santa Clara has given out the following report in regard to the June weather:

June 1, 2, 4, 5, 6.—As many successive disturbances will form, or rather, arrive over the high north-west and Arizona, with light rains over the Plateau and thunderstorms over the mountains. Fair in California, with some varying cloudiness. The areas of rising barometers and greater warmth will fall in June 2, 3 and 4.

June 7, 8, 9, 10.—Fair and warm. June 11, 12, 13.—Minor depressions will arrive in succession over the Canadian Northwest, with their counterparts in Southern California and Arizona and their extensions over the Plateau. Possibly local rains over these regions and some electrical display. Generally fair in California. Simultaneous areas of rising pressure will add a passing chill, followed by warmth.

June 14, 15, 16.—Something like three depressions will make their appearance north and south, two of which will be rather menacing. Some rain may be expected in the usually privileged spots—the mountains and the Plateau—following electric combinations. Possibly some threatening appearances in California. High pressure areas of proportional intensity, arriving at the same time, will make it dull and warm after a brief spell of fresh and cool weather.

June 17, 18, 19.—Fair from Alaska to Mexico.

June 20, 21, 22.—Fair from Alaska to Mexico.

June 23, 24, 25.—A couple of shallow depressions will pass unnoticed, except for a few clouds. Continued warm in the interior.

June 26, 27, 28.—Fair all along the Coast and off to the mountains. Delightful weather for picnics.

June 29, 30.—Some general cloudiness along the Coast, but not enough to change the fair into the foul.

July 1, 2, 3.—Will also be exposed to some cloudiness. After that, fair up to July 11.

The rainmakers will not prosper in June, unless it be about the 17th.

Hard-boiled eggs are used as small change in many places in southern Russia.

$5016 LOWEST BID OFFERED COUNCIL FOR CONSTRUCTING SEWER IN BUSINESS SECTION

The city council today had taken under advisement bids for installation of a main sewer line and lateral on Fourth street, between French and Ross streets. The new line is to be constructed to replace the present line extending between the two points in the middle of the block between Fourth and Fifth streets.

Of four offers received last night, G. M. Wucetich of Los Angeles is the low bidder, his estimate totaling $5016.85.

Plans for the work call for the digging of a trench nine and a half feet deep between the double tracks of the Pacific Electric company. Most of the line will be of ten-inch pipe.

According to C. C. Chapman, sewer commissioner, the work probably will be paid for out of the sewer bond fund.

Bids also were taken under advisement for providing the city with a two-ton truck.

Eight offers were submitted, as follows:

George Dunton, Ford, $912.50; D. F. Foy and Son, United States, $2200; Kleiver Motor Truck company, Kleiver, $2663.05; Federal Motor Truck company, Federal, $3063.75; American-La France company, $3609.70; Moreland Sales corporation, Moreland, $2731.75; A. J. Garraway, Mack, $3658.08; M. Elitste, International, $3134.75; O. A. Haley, Graham, $1717.50; White Auto company, White, $3954.25.

Street Sweeper Bids.
The Elgin Sales corporation submitted an offer to furnish the city with a new Elgin street sweeper for $6850 and the Austin Western Road company submitted a bid of $7300 for one of its sweepers. Mrs. H. K. Behn, saleswoman for the Elgin, advised the board that she would give as a bonus $500 of her commission, if the Elgin was chosen. She made the bonus offer, she said, in order to get one of the 1924 machines at a convenient location so inspection could be made by officials of other Southern California municipalities. The bids were taken under advisement.

Purchase of a C. L. Best Model L tractor was authorized at a cost of $3285. Bids were opened at the last meeting of the council.

It was definitely established that widening of North Bristol street from forty to sixty feet, from First street to the north city limits, is included in plans of the council for widening that thoroughfare. It was thought by some that the widening program was from Eighth street north. The city will pay the costs of changing the location of a S. A. V. I. company pipe line in the street, if property owners present deeds to the land required for the widening.

First reading was given an ordinance repealing that portion of an emergency ordinance adopted recently requiring pasteurization of all milk delivered in Santa Ana.

Overhaul Paving Protest.
Overruling protests against paving of West Third street, Pacific to Western, the council adopted a resolution ordering the work. Similar action was taken in the matter of paving Oak street, Bishop to McFadden.

Application made by Ramon Chavez for permission to operate a second-hand clothing store at 902 East Walnut was referred to the police commissioner, as was also a request made by H. Patton for permission to conduct a dance, June 13, at the armory for the benefit of the California Aid society.

Petition of property owners for closing an alley extending from Orange avenue to Cypress avenue, in the southeast part of the city, was referred to the planning commission.

A deed was presented by J. D. Crouch to property needed for the opening of West Sixth street, Western to Artesia.

Because of the absence of Councilmen J. W. Tubbs and George McPhee there was no discussion of the dump contract executed between the city and Harper brothers, E. B. Collier officiated as chairman pro tem.

HUNTINGTON BEACH TRUSTEES DECIDE TO INSTALL LIGHTS ON EIGHTH STREET AT ONCE

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 3.—Lights will be installed soon on Eighth street here, it was decided at the regular meeting of the city trustees held at the city hall last night. The move was taken after a petition asking that the street be lighted, and signed by about forty property owners was read. City Engineer L. F. Gates was instructed to prepare the plans and specifications, cross sections and profiles for the system.

A petition which was submitted to the board of trustees advocating the paving and lighting of Seventh street was taken under advisement until the next meeting.

Numerous matters were taken up by the trustees in regard to various needs of the city, including the purchase of a lawnmower for the city parks, the repairing of sidewalks on Twelfth street. The board also approved the changing of certain funds from one branch of the gas department to another branch to cover an overdrawal.

The matter of changing the location of garbage cans throughout the city from the fronts of the houses and buildings to the rear on the alleys was decreed and the health inspector will be instructed to notify the garbage man to set and collect all the garbage in the alleys from now until such a time as the alleys become impassable.

Considerable discussion was held on the purchase of a street sweeper for the city. It was pointed out that many paved streets now being secured by the city would make it necessary for them to be kept clean. City Engineer L. F. Gates was instructed to look into the matter as to the cost and maintenance of an adequate street sweeper. The matter of parking on Ocean avenue was brought into the limelight when one of the councilmen declared that he had been penned in on the street recently for nearly half an hour before he could get his car out. An ordinance will be drawn by City Attorney L. W. Blodgett providing for parking at a forty-five degree angle.

Dismiss Charges Involving Check

Dismissal of a charge involving a fictitious check was announced today in the case of James L. Becker, who was scheduled to receive his preliminary hearing late yesterday before Justice J. B. Cox. Justice Cox dismissed the charge at the request of the district attorney's office.

THE MARRIAGE OF DOLLY AND NIGEL
by RUDY AYRES
© NEA SERVICE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

The marriage of Dolly and Nigel is a story of love and adventure. Dolly is a girl who has been in the care of her aunt, Mrs. Fisher, since she was a child. Nigel is a boy who has been in the care of his uncle, Mr. Evans, since he was a child. They have both grown up in the same household, and they have both been educated at the same school. They are now both of college age, and they are both very intelligent and capable. They have both been in love with each other since they were children, and they have both been determined to marry each other. They have both been in the care of their respective families, and they have both been very happy and content. They have both been in the care of their respective families, and they have both been very happy and content. They have both been in the care of their respective families, and they have both been very happy and content.

Now go on with the story!

"Oh, my dearest—my dearest!" he said, brokenly.

"I always shall say," Miss Varney declared, "that she began to get well from that moment. It is wonderful what love will do. I'm an old maid myself, but I am sure there is nothing more wonderful in all the world than a man's love for a woman."

That was weeks afterwards, when Mary was down at the Red Grange again, with the faint glow of returning strength in her white face.

She was lying out on the lawn, under the shady elms, and Miss Varney was watching from the open window.

It was David to whom she spoke; and he turned away with a little self-conscious laugh.

"You ridiculous old lady!" he said. But he came back and kissed her. "And—doesn't she know I'm here?" he inquired, with an effort.

Miss Varney laughed.

"I never told her a word. She's afraid of you, David. I do believe. She always turns her face away when I speak about you—not that I speak about you very often," she added mischievously.

David had been away for the last fortnight. As soon as Mary was out of danger he had left home.

It was a golden afternoon—one of the brightest of the summer. The bees were droning sleepily in the roses; birds chirped in the sunshine. Somewhere at the back of the house a dog barked.

Mary closed her eyes. It was so good to be here after the noise and heat of London; so good to lie still and forget everything that had worried and hurt her. If only David were here! If only he were here beside her, and—

She opened her eyes with a little impatient sigh, and found him bending over her.

For an instant she could not move; then, with a stifled cry, she started up. The blood rushed to her head, the old terrible feeling of weakness overwhelmed her.

David laid her gently back on the pillows. He took her shaking hands in his, and held them in the strong, comforting grasp of her dream, comforting grasp of her dream.

"Mary, you're not afraid of me? Oh, my darling, if you knew how I have longed to see you!"

She tried to answer, but the tears came, and she could find no words. David bent and kissed the hands he held.

"If you cry I shall go away. If you cry, I shall believe you don't want to see me. Mary, do you—could you ever care for me?"

It was a dream, of course it was—she kept on saying it to herself over and over again. It was none of it true. She was just sleeping, and would wake up soon to the old longing and emptiness. But dream-lips cannot give passionate kisses; dream-arms cannot hold one in a strong, comforting clasp!

David.

"She tried to hold him off, to protest that she was not worthy. But he only laughed.

"You are not to call my wife ugly names!" he said fondly.

And then she broke down and cried again.

"But only because I am so happy!" she told him. "Oh, David, if you knew how much I have wanted to see you!"

"Not more than I wanted you, my sweet!"

It seemed impossible that it was really David saying such loving things. She had always been a little afraid of him, always held him a little in awe; and yet now—she broke out tremblingly.

"But you don't know; I haven't told you! You don't know how I have loved you!"

"You can tell me all about it some day when you are quite well and strong; but now—well, I don't want you to tell me anything except how much you love me!"

"You know I love you!"

His jealous eyes sought her face. "Better than—than anyone else you have ever known?" he asked.

She knew what he meant. She knew that he was thinking of his brother—thinking of Nigel, whom she had once loved, but who seemed now to have faded into the background of memories.

"Better than anyone I have ever known!" she answered him.

He seemed contented with that. For a moment he sat holding her hand, without speaking; then:

"Nigel's wife wrote to me," he said suddenly. "Mary, what shall I do for her? I feel that I owe her something for ever having sent you to me. If she hadn't gone ahead you would never have come into my life at all."

Weak tears sprang to her eyes again.

"David, I'm not good enough for you! I can't bear to think that I—"

He interrupted gently.

"I am the best judge of that, sweetheart. Dearest, when will you marry me?"

She shook her head, trying to hide her eyes.

"You don't really mean it, you're just sorry for me!"

He did not answer at once.

"If being so utterly miserable without you that I wish I were dead is being sorry for you, then I suppose I am!" he said slowly. "If hating every moment of every day without you is being sorry for you, then—Mary, how can you waste time talking such nonsense?"

ORANGE MAN TO BE BURIED BY KLAN

Torrance Members to Take Part in Ritualistic Rites at Grave

ORANGE, June 3.—While plans were going forward here today for the burial with the full ritualistic services of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan of Jerry Claypool, 27 years old, of this city, who was killed near Torrance Sunday, when the car in which he was riding was struck by a Pacific Electric car, D. E. Claypool, the young man's uncle took occasion to deny reports that the party had been drinking.

Carried Gas in Flask.

George M. Campbell and Mrs. Jeanette Campbell of Huntington Park were also killed in the accident. D. E. Claypool said that his nephew was in the habit of carrying extra gasoline in a liquor flask.

Claypool, who visited the scene, declared that the crossing is seldom used, not more than three or four times passing during a week. This fact is attributed for the high rate of speed at which the death car was traveling when the crash occurred.

Investigation indicated that Campbell saw the train when it was too late to avoid collision. Before striking the train amidships, the machine skidded for a distance of some twenty feet, marks on the boulevard indicated, according to Claypool.

After the crash, the automobile continued wildly down the tracks for nearly two hundred feet before coming to a standstill. The machine never overturned and when trainmen arrived on the scene the three occupants, badly mangled from the impact were trapped in the front seat, where all three had been riding.

Find Shattered Glass.

The shattered glass from the flask, found among the wreckage, caused authorities to express the theory that liquor was carried in the car, according to Claypool.

The crash occurred at Delancey station, just out of Torrance, where both men were employed by Jerry Lyons, former local truck operator. Campbell, who was driving, apparently failed to observe the freight train until too late to avoid the crash.

Fog which hung low over the boulevard is also believed to have contributed to the accident, tending further to obscure the driver's vision of the approaching train.

The funeral will probably be held late this week, as plans are being held in abeyance pending the arrival of a brother, Perry Claypool, from Buffalo, Wyoming. The Claypool family intends to journey to this city to participate in the services.

WOMAN IS NAMED BEACH POSTMASTER

SEAL BEACH, June 3.—Mrs. Anna Collier today had assumed charge of the Seal Beach postoffice. Her appointment as acting postmistress arrived from Washington at the end of last week. Mrs. Collier succeeds E. B. Brown, who has served as postmaster for a year, and who asked to be relieved to recover his health. Appointment to the acting postmastership is considered virtually the same as becoming postmaster. Mrs. Collier has been assistant to the postmaster for a year. She received the highest grades in the recent civil service examinations at Santa Ana. She is a Republican.

And David said—

"But here the little god who had been sitting between them with folded wings, chuckling at his own cleverness in having brought about yet another love-match, stretched them wearily and yawned before he flew away. For, after all, what David was saying was only what he had heard many, many times before, and it bored him stiff.

It was very ill-mannered of him; but neither David nor Mary would have cared had they known. For David's arm was round her waist and her head was on his shoulder, and both their faces were turned to the sunshine, and a future which they would share together.

THE END.

The ceremony of wedding Long Beach and Seal Beach is one of celebrating the achievement of building the two growing cities up the Orange-Long Beach county line, and thus linking closer the commercial, industrial and social future of the people of the Santa Ana valley and the districts farther west. The formal invitations for the wedding have already gone out to the civic bodies of the Southland inviting everybody in the name of "Mr. and Mrs. S. Beach."

HIT STOPPING OF BUSES AT NEWPORT

NEWPORT BEACH, June 3.—The city trustees of Newport Beach last night adopted on final reading the ordinance prohibiting the stopping of stages at the terminal at the corner of Main and Central avenue and restricted the stopping of the stages at the postoffice to pick up mail.

Stages, under the new ordinance, will be allowed to halt at intersections to pick up passengers but because of their alleged blocking of traffic in the downtown section will not be allowed to park there.

The ordinance was adopted after considerable heated discussion. One report was to the effect that a stage company plans on securing a terminal at East Newport and operating from there but this could not be officially confirmed.

The Santa Ana municipal band entered a bid of $2,000 for ten concerts to be played here this summer. The matter was referred to the trustees as a committee of the whole.

In connection with the bus situation Norman Robotham and Edmond Logsdon, representing the Laguna Beach chamber of commerce, asked permission from the trustees to pick up passengers arriving in Newport Beach from Los Angeles on the electric line and transport them to Laguna Beach by bus. The matter will be taken up with the Pacific Electric and the Cown Stage company, now operating on the Newport Beach streets.

Lose Your Still? Beach Police Are Keeping It

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 3.—Did you lose a still? Huntington Beach police have one recently turned over to them by James Morris, field manager of the Huntington Beach company, who declared that he found the still in some weeds on the company property. Chief of Police John Tinsley investigated the matter thoroughly and brought the still to police headquarters.

The machine is made from a large copper boiler, as is used to wash clothes. The lid of the boiler has been welded in place and a large cap with a pipe leading from it constructed at the top. The blackened sides of the boiler look as if the still had been used extensively.

ORANGE BLDG. PERMITS IN BIG DROP

ORANGE, June 3.—Slumping badly, building permits for the month just closed tumbled to the lowest point in four years, the total reaching only $16,250, it was disclosed today by the city building department.

The low figure failed to discourage builders, however, who declared that it was only a temporary lull which was expected to be brightened by renewed activities this month.

Already several large projects are under construction, including a $125,000 theater project. The permits for these projects are to be taken out this month, indicating that the month will present a high total.

For May construction, seven permits were issued, five representing dwellings, one garage and one remodeling. The lowest previous total for any single month was in July, 1921, when permits reached the same figure. Since then, virtually every month has at least surpassed the $40,000 mark.

The total for the first five months of the year stands at $277,950 as compared with $348,850 last year.

Occupational Tax Held to Be Valid By Anaheim Judge

ANAHEIM, June 3.—Judge Charles Kuchel handed down his decision in the occupational tax test brought by the Anaheim realty board questioning the legal right of the city levying a city tax on all business establishments, yesterday morning. The court ruled in favor of the city and the defendant was fined $10.

The question of carrying the case to the higher courts will be decided by the realty board at once, but notice of appeal by Attorney Leonard Evans, representing the realty board, has already been served, and ten days time allowed in which to file it. The case has been the point of keen interest throughout this section, since its outcome, if favorable to the board, will probably have the effect of the same action being taken by boards in incorporated cities throughout the state.

The realty board maintained that the city tax was a duplication of the state tax that was already being paid and that the city had no legal right to levy such a tax.

BEACH GAS RATES TO BE DECREASED

BEACH OPENING IS SET FOR WEEK END

SEAL BEACH, June 3.—Formal opening of the summer amusement program at Seal Beach will take place Saturday and Sunday, June 7 and 8. Activities will include resumption of dancing, which last year was restricted practically to the vanishing point. Athletic events, aquatic sports, stunts and music will augment the program and the proportions of a summer festival.

Saturday's program will be given largely to the activities for the children. Saturday night the Boosters club grand ball will be given at the Jewel City hall. This dance is to be one of the most elaborate ever given in Seal Beach. A seven-piece orchestra has been engaged, and special music and dancing numbers will be put on by Glenda Boston and her Seal Beach orchestra of radio fame, and by Miss Doris Greenwood's dancing class.

The Sunday program will include athletic exhibitions and contests on the beach. Among the special events will be the contests between teams of the Army and Navy stores of the south, which will give their annual picnic for nearly 1000 employees. The athletic contests will be held in the morning. After the picnic dinner, the baseball team from Los Angeles will play a team picked from the neighboring towns. Following this game, which is to be held at Anaheim Landing, will come swimming contests on the beach along the pike.

Changes in the dancing ordinance permitting resumption of this pastime go into effect on this day, and matinee dancing is planned for the afternoon. To be followed by the regular night dances. Dancing will be under municipal supervision and is expected to prove a great drawing card. Poster's orchestra will play for these dances.

Judge Morrison, president of the Boosters club, has named the following members of the entertainment committee: Raymond Aldrich, A. E. Walker, R. E. Miller, Paul Helmick, and A. E. Bennett. The welcoming committee includes Mayor R. D. Richards, A. W. Armstrong, Mrs. M. J. Washburn, William Templeman, Fred J. Smith, Markham, A. F. Morris and Miss Elsie McClellan. The publicity committee includes A. W. Armstrong, Mrs. D. J. Miller and Miss McClellan. Directors of the club are Mr. Armstrong, J. W. Lindsay, G. H. Morrison, William Aherm and J. H. Walder.

Newspaper Scribe Hailed Into Court By Anaheim Police

ANAHEIM, June 3.—Thomas Killian, Hollywood newspaper man, who was arrested in Anaheim Saturday on a charge of being under the influence of liquor and of having the forbidden drink in his possession, was fined $300 by Justice Charles Kuchel yesterday.

When arraigned before the judge, Killian pleaded guilty and he moaned the fact that his enforced sojourn in the city jail over the weekend would be the cause of his losing a $10,000 year position which was to have accepted yesterday morning.

Judge Kuchel, in passing sentence, stated that he intended to punish severely any person violating the prohibition law, and warned the violators of the Volstead act to expect no mercy if they should be unfortunate enough to be brought before his court.

PRISONERS ON ROADS EARN HUGE SUM

SACRAMENTO, June 3.—Convicts employed in the construction of state highways made net earnings from August 17, 1923, the date the prison law went into effect, to April 30, according to a report made public today by Ben H. Miliken, superintendent of the prison road camps.

The daily average earning for the entire period was 29 cents per day per man, but for the month of April the average increased to 42 cents per day. The highway construction is authorized by law to pay the convicts not to exceed $2.50 per day, but from this sum expenses of the camp must be deducted.

The present wage has been set at $2.10, the average cost of maintaining the camps prior to the enactment of the new law. After deducting the expenses the men are permitted to make not to exceed 75 cents per day.

Since August prisoners have made allotments to dependents, as provided for in the act, to the amount of $343. Prisoners are permitted to allot not to exceed two-thirds of their earnings.

An architect of Auckland, New Zealand, has designed a theater with disappearing shops incorporated in its front elevation. The shops, opening on the street during the day, would at night be lowered body into the basement, leaving their roofs to form part of the floor of the vestibule of the theater.

DOMINATION OF WEST BROKEN. EAST BELIEF

Defeat of Stanford Leads To Hope For Reversals At Poughkeepsie

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, June 3.—Following the surprising failure of the highly regarded California teams in the intercollegiate track and field championships, some critics believe that other western reverses are to follow and that the domination over the East has been broken.

Only a few critics thought that Yale, or any other eastern team could win from the strong Stanford team at Cambridge and the same high regard of the far western entry in the intercollegiate rowing championship was followed in the early predictions.

Washington showed so much in winning the championship at Poughkeepsie that two Washington coaches were brought East to teach their system. Ed Leader, the former head coach at Washington developed a crew at Yale that is regarded by some critics as the finest that has been seen in the East for years.

Yale, however, is not entered in the intercollegiate. The crew is now working out on the Thames, preparing for the annual race for Harvard at New London, which looks to be a romp for the powerful Yale eight. Pennsylvania is looked on as a dark horse in the Poughkeepsie and a lot of Eastern money is seeking fancy odds on the Penn eight against Washington.

The Penn crews made such a sweep in the Henley regatta at Philadelphia last Saturday against formidable opposition that the East had its eyes opened. Jim Rice, after getting the gate at Columbia, was hired to help Joe Wright at Penn and the combination of two fine coaches seems to have worked almost a miracle. Pennsylvania will be the most formidable eastern crew in the race.

Kinks o' the Links

By JOE WILLIAMS

It is one thing to know how to play a golf shot. It is another to know what club to play it with. This may not be as silly as it sounds. The one is a matter of mechanics, the other of judgment.

And in matters of judgment the golfing mind is not always error-proof.

Whether a shot should be played with mashie niblick or mashie, brassie or full-iron frequently forms a problem requiring more than momentary thought.

The stronger club may send you too far, the lighter club may leave you far short.

And the element of doubt thus created is almost sure to play hob with your concentration, with the result that a bad shot is inescapable.

We saw a splendid example of what unerring selection of clubs will do for an ordinary player's game at Inverness several years ago.

J. K. Wadley, a lumberman from the southwest, played a sociable round with Jim Barnes, the noted professional, the day before the open championship started.

Wadley is an 85 player or thereabouts. This day he was hitting his shots fairly well, and undoubtedly would have scored decently even without Barnes' help. But he had Barnes' help and he had it at times when perfect judgment was needed most.

This was in the selection of clubs on second and third shots to the green.

Whenever there was any doubt Barnes made the decision and his decisions, naturally, were always pretty good.

Well, the result was Wadley gave the stiff Inverness par a terrific battle. Instead of his customary 85, Wadley was closer to 75, due partly to some excellent shots of his own, but mainly to Barnes' expert advice.

This incident does not exactly point to a marvel but it at least shows that hitting the ball perfectly is only one part of the game.

and has more than an even chance to beat the good Washington eight.

Another victory was marked up for the East yesterday when Princeton defeated the Arizona polo team by a score of 8 to 0 and won the intercollegiate championship. Considering the handicap that the Arizona players had in making the long trip, the result of the match was not a surprise and that the score would indicate.

Prescribed 3,000 years ago in Egypt, there is a celebrated eye lotion which is still regarded as pretty sound.

While walking through a field, a farmer in South Africa noticed a crow suddenly drop dead. When he examined the bird he found that it had been choked by a 7-carat diamond.

DEMPSEY TO BATTLE 3 FOES AT VERNON

Rocco Stragmalia, Champ's Bugbear at Shelby, to Be First In Ring

LOS ANGELES, June 3.—Pugilism's greatest drawing card, Jack Dempsey, will toil for charity's sake tonight when the world's heavyweight champion meets three aspiring battlers at the Vernon coliseum here.

Rocco Stragmalia, who, as a sparring partner with Dempsey before the Gibbons bout last summer was reported to have opened an ugly rash over the champion's eye, will be the first of the trio to enter the ring with the king of heavyweights. How long he will stay can be conjectured only.

Stragmalia's conqueror in a recent northern fight, Fred Sullivan, also is scheduled to go two rounds with Dempsey. Pat Lester, a 230-pounder, who is said to be a bear for punishment, rounds out the triple opposition.

Dempsey has declared that he doesn't intend to be in the ring more than four rounds. Just how they'll fall to even out that schedule is a matter of guesswork.

What should develop into a real battle at tonight's show is the bout between Jimmy Duff of Oakland, and Billy Wells. Duff has a win over the clever British lightweight to his credit. Another engagement between the two resulted in a draw. Tonight's argument is expected to settle the matter of superiority.

Willie O'Brien and Babe Herman; Johnny Adams and Larry Murphy; Don Davis and Dode Berco; Jimmy Hackley and Gene Delmont; Frankie Grandetta and George Rivers, and Mennie Kaplin and Jack White complete the card. Proceeds of the Vernon program tonight will be handed over to work with needy children of this section.

WALKER IS VICTOR OVER LEW TENDLER

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—Mick Walker, world's welterweight champion, won a decisive ten-round decision here last night from Lew Tandler, former lightweight champion. Tandler, who was so clearly entitled to the decision that there was not a dissenting voice when the verdict was announced. The welterweight champion carried his attack to the body and punished Tandler severely. With the exception of one round, Walker did all the fighting and carried such an attack to the left hander that Tandler did not get started.

DUNDEE DECISIVELY DEFEATS VICENTINI

NEW YORK, June 3.—Johnny Dundee, featherweight and junior lightweight champion, won his way back as a challenger for the lightweight championship when he decisively defeated Luis Vicentini, Chilean champion, in a twelve round bout last night in Madison Square Garden. Vicentini won only the eleventh round, when he made a desperate effort to land a knockout punch. Dundee outboxed the Chilean through ten rounds and showed Vicentini needs a lot of experience before he would be a match for Benny Leonard.

SHORT SPORTS

Max Carey's homer in the eighth inning with one on started a five run rally and the Pirates beat the Cards, 6 to 2.

The Giants knocked McNamara out of the box and beat the Braves, 9 to 6. Ryan blew up in the ninth and had to be rescued by Jonnard.

Walter Johnson worked in old-time form against the Athletics and the Senators won, 8 to 3. Johnson fanned seven.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

With only one outstanding fighter of class, the American Olympic boxing team is not as formidable as the squad that went to Antwerp in 1920. Nearly all of the good amateur boxers that were developed since the Antwerp games turned professional, and left the class in a rather emaciated condition.

Eddie Eagen, former captain of the Yale boxing team, now a Rhodes scholar at Oxford, is the only outstanding boxer on the team. He is not only the best of the American amateurs, but he is about the best in the world.

Eagen, who was appointed to the team without qualifying, may be started in both the light heavyweight and heavyweight classes, and he has a fine chance to win the championship in both classes.

The American team won only two championships in the last Olympic boxing matches. Frank de Gennaro, who is now one of the headliners of the professional ring under the name of Genaro, won the flyweight championship, and Sam Bossberg won the lightweight title.

Bill Spengler, boxing instructor at the New York police school, had the heavyweight championship practically sewed up, but he had the bad luck to break his hand in his semi-final round and he was forced to default.

The Zivic brothers were headliners of the 1920 team, but they have turned professionals. Jack Zivic is one of the outstanding fighters in the lightweight class, and if Benny Leonard makes good his threat to retire at the end of the season, Zivic may be able to grab the title.

Eddie Eagen, and Harry Mallin, the Britisher, who won the middleweight championship at Antwerp, will be the only two 1920 champions to defend their titles.

Mallin is one of the best amateurs in Europe and he is almost certain to retain his title. Eagen holds the British intercollegiate light heavyweight and heavyweight championships. He is one of the best fighters in the ring, having a heavy punch and a lot of boxing skill. He could make good in the professional ring, but will as ambitious to become a lawyer and he is working his way through college.

When Carpentier was being steamed up into a match with Dempsey, Eagen said he could whip the Frenchman, and he offered to meet him in a bout for a charity fund, but the Frenchman, of course, would not listen to any proposition of this kind. After Battling Siki had knocked out Carpentier, Eagen put up the same proposition to the Hon-biter, and was likewise turned down.

The boxing matches in Paris this summer should be one of the big features of the Olympic games. They are to be staged after the track and field games and they will command more attention than they got in Antwerp, where they were held at the same time with the big feature events.

VICTORIA SCENE OF CHURCH CONFERENCE

VICTORIA, B. C., Canada, June 3.—Victoria will be the scene of the eleventh annual meeting of the Pacific Coast Theological conference; second week in July having been selected as the time for meeting. International and interdenominational in character, annual sessions of the conference are alternated with cities north and south of the American-Canadian line.

Among those expected to participate in the conference are Principal John MacKay of Manitoba college, Winnipeg; Dr. J. Percival Hugst of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Dr. Frank Dyer of Los Angeles, a former president of the conference and Rev. Prof. Brown of Victoria college, Toronto.

REALTORS DROP ALL 4 POINTS IN FINALE

American Nationals Score Pin Total of 2574 to 2378 For Opponents

The championship of all teams that bowl at the Broadway academy today belonging to the American National bank, first place five of the last night decisively defeated the Santa Ana Realty board quintette, title-holder of the Commercial league. The bankers captured all four points, one for each game and one for team total. They rolled up a mark of 2574 pins against 2378 for the Lot Sellers.

For their victory, the American Nationals will be presented with gold watch fobs by the Broadway academy. The Realtors win an expensive bowling ball which, they announced, would be given to their captain, Jack Newcomer.

Honors for best work last night went to Captain Newcomer of the Realty board who averaged 189 for his three games. Ewing of the bankers rated second with an average of 187 and M. Olson of the same troupe came in third with a mark of 183.

Harry Gaspar, proprietor of the Broadway alleys, said the American Nationals were willing to defend their title against any bowling squad in Santa Ana and that he would accept challenges for them. A new Broadway league now is being formed and a final meeting will be held Thursday at 8 p. m.

EVENING SALUTATION

Alone with Thee, amid the mystic shadows,
The solemn hush of nature newly born;
Alone with Thee in breathless adoration,
In the calm dew and freshness of the morn.
—Harriet Beecher Stowe.

CAMPAIGN GIFTS

Campaign funds are always a problem. And it makes a lot of difference from which side a person looks at the problem. A campaign committee never thinks it has enough money. The public usually thinks it has too much. There is no agreement as to the ethics of war chest donations and their proper limits.

One thing has been generally agreed on in recent years. It is that corporations should not contribute to political campaigns. There are laws, federal and state, to prevent that. But as everyone knows, such laws are not very effective. Instead of gifts being credited to the corporations, they are credited to individuals representing those corporations, and it amounts to about the same thing.

"Large gifts" are unquestionably against public policy. But where definite limits are set, large givers find it easy to divide up their donations.

Publicity of campaign funds has not accomplished what was expected of it, because the published statements may conveniently overlook various gifts, and it is hard to get at the facts.

Senator Borah has a new plan, approved by the Senate, whereby the sources of campaign money must be published before election, at ten-day periods. This, like other remedies for "buying elections," will help only in so far as it is lived up to in letter and spirit.

EARNED INCOME FAVORED

No feature of the new federal revenue bill is more justifiable than the favor it shows to "earned income" as against income from inherited or invested wealth. A deduction of 25 per cent of the tax on net income can be made, for this reason, after the tax has been figured at the reduced rates.

This means that the man actually hustling for a living will pay only three-fourths as much income tax on his wages, salary or professional fees as will the man deriving an income of the same size from some other source. There is an interesting exception, however. It is provided that any net income of $5,000 or less will be regarded as having been "earned." This is favoritism shown to small investors, dependents, etc., at the expense of wealthy "coupon clippers," and is probably defensible on broad social and economic grounds. It avoids laying a tax burden on the person whose only means of livelihood is a pension and it encourages people of moderate means to invest their savings.

This favor to earned incomes is a new principle in America, but has long been practised in foreign countries which have income taxes.

JAPANESE EXCLUSION

The immigration law does not really slam the door in Japan's face as hard as some of the comments on that subject have seemed to imply. In his statement made when he signed the bill, President Coolidge took pains to explain, perhaps for the special benefit of Japanese jingoes:

"It should be noted that the bill exempts from the exclusion provision government officials, those coming to the country as tourists or temporarily for business or pleasure, those in transit, seamen, those already resident here, and returning from temporary absences, professors, ministers of religion, students, and those who enter solely to carry on trade in pursuance of existing treaty provisions."

This is fairly broad. It does not keep out any class that has been admitted heretofore under the "gentlemen's agreement." It bars only the lower-class Japanese who were already barred under that agreement, merely making their exclusion more definite and emphatic. It is a change not of matter but of manner.

THE HAPPIEST PEOPLE

A writer in the Atlantic Monthly says that Americans are the happiest white people in the modern world. "Wherever you go in the whole vast territory of the states, you discover that sort of freedom in the soul which is the breeding soil of happiness."

This is something for Americans to think about. If it is not true, it ought to be, for with all our faults of government and education and for all our inequalities in the distribution of wealth, fundamentally the whole nation has more causes for happiness than other whole nations.

Since it is true, then we need to do all we can to keep it so. The freeing of little children from grinding and soil-destroying child labor is one thing to make for greater national happiness. Another is the promotion of health. Widespread educational opportunity is a third. There are others which the thoughtful citizen can name for himself and which the patriotic citizen can help to advance and maintain.

JUST WHAT IS PROGRESS?

Baron Sumner of England is impressed unfavorably with some of our most modern scientific triumphs. He condemns three things in particular:

First the phonograph, which he says "has corrupted the musical sense of England and America for nearly a generation."

Second the moving picture, which "does little except stimulate the passions and act as a soporific for the human mind."

Third the motor car, "than which I know nothing that has done more to increase a feeling of jealousy and dislike between the classes."

It isn't necessary to class the baron, offhand, as a hopeless old fogey. A good deal of our boasted progress may not be altogether what it is cracked up to be. We often think we are advancing when we are running around in circles, and that we are thinking when we are merely making, or listening to, useless noises. Material progress is of little use unless it promotes mental and moral progress; and it is here that the critic makes his attack.

But if the inventions mentioned have had the effect he attributes to them in England, they certainly have not in America. Here musical taste has gone ahead along with the universal use of phonographs.

The moving picture, with all its evils, has done much for education and made amusement more democratic. And in a land where almost any family is able to have a car of some kind, and second hand flivvers are always dodging ahead of costly limousines, the motor car has bridged the gap between classes rather than widened it.

Marbles may not be an ideal sport, especially for championship matches, but anything that teaches boys to knuckle down is worth while.

Should Boost Inyo Communities

Fresno Republican

We do not know whether there is any court either of law or of effective public opinion that hears the cry of the Owens valley people, but, if not, and if the sort of raising that is done there continues, in other parts of this country and of the world, the results will be grievous.

The particular farmers who lose their homes because water is taken from them, or because the financial values in their community are reduced, because morale is broken up, because local bankers can no longer operate, because merchants can no longer get enough business to serve local demands—these men will move away, to reestablish themselves elsewhere or to die heartbroken, and will soon be forgotten. If this was the whole story then we would say that the greatest good of the greatest number called for the subordination of one district's interests to that of another.

But the greater harm in such a change in society as has been taking place in the Owens valley for a number of years is the injury that is done to the districts that are getting the apparent benefit. If, in this instance, the immediate opportunity of Los Angeles, as a city, seems to consist in making a reservoir and nothing else out of the Owens valley, this is only immediate and not ultimate. In the not-so-far-off hereafter a thousand people left in the Owens valley would be much more valuable to Los Angeles than another ten thousand, or even more, in the city itself.

It is the "back country" that makes every city. In fact, a part of the defect of our present democracy seems to be that the rural districts are coming to be regarded as subsidiary to the cities, whereas, in fact, the only excuse for the cities is that they serve the rural districts. Los Angeles, at a million population, is no more happy than is Los Angeles at a half a million. The mere adding of people does not promote the city welfare nor prosperity. But the removal of people from a sparsely populated territory does wrong the territory and wrong all its neighboring territories. Another hundred thousand people in San Francisco would not help Fresno at all. But the loss of a few thousands from Stockton or Sacramento or Bakersfield would be of serious hurt to us in Fresno. We need, for our state's substantial character, this diversity of communal support. We are not helped by a heavy accretion of population in one point.

It is to be hoped that the appeal of the people of Owens valley to the leaders in Los Angeles will not fall on barren ground. The political prestige of the great city has come to have a crushing force in every movement within the state. But far-sighted statesmanship on the part of the men who are molding thought in Los Angeles may see to it that there shall be community prosperity in Inyo county. They already recognize this clearly in the territory south of the Tehachapi. It is equally true in the county north of the Tehachapi and east of the Sierras.

Commerce Growing In State

Pasadena Star-News

California is becoming a big factor in foreign trade of the United States. California ranks sixth among the states in the volume of its export trade. During the first three months of 1924, California's exports are estimated at more than $53,000,000.

This is extremely gratifying. It denotes growth of a nature that betokens immense development along varied commercial lines, benefiting—directly or indirectly—every interest and every industry in the state. California's port cities are becoming more and more important as ocean-going trade expands. And this form of commerce will expand steadily. Trade across the Pacific is swelling. It will continue to increase in volume. California is the keystone of this arch of commerce to and from the Pacific Slope.

Coolidge On Advertising

Stockton Independent

Much has been said and written about advertising, but it would seem as if President Coolidge compressed the whole literature of the subject into two sentences, when in his message of greeting to the Pacific Coast Advertising Clubs Association at Fresno, he wrote:

"Advertising is the given word of the producers to the consumer. As advertising men, it is your duty to see that that word is not broken and to keep faith with the public, which relies upon you for guidance in the daily affairs of life."

The common taunt that Coolidge does not say much is not true. He always says much. What is true is that he does not say many.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

BLOOD PRESSURE AND THE TIME OF DAY.
You have always accepted for insurance, and you have been assured by your family physician that you were all right, you have learned that your blood pressure was a "little high," or "above the normal," for your age.

Now as I've said before, I would be the last one to belittle the importance of blood pressure, but there are so many factors that enter into it, that you may have a high blood pressure at one hour of the day, much above the average in fact, and a blood pressure actually below the average at another hour.

For instance, a physician wishing to allay the fears of one of his patients who was worrying over his blood pressure, adopted a very simple method of accomplishing it. They were neighbors. Apparently returning from an early professional call one morning, he dropped in on his friend while the latter was still in bed, to borrow a book they had been discussing the evening before. He sat down beside the bed, and said, "Oh, by the way, I'll just take that old blood pressure of yours while I'm here."

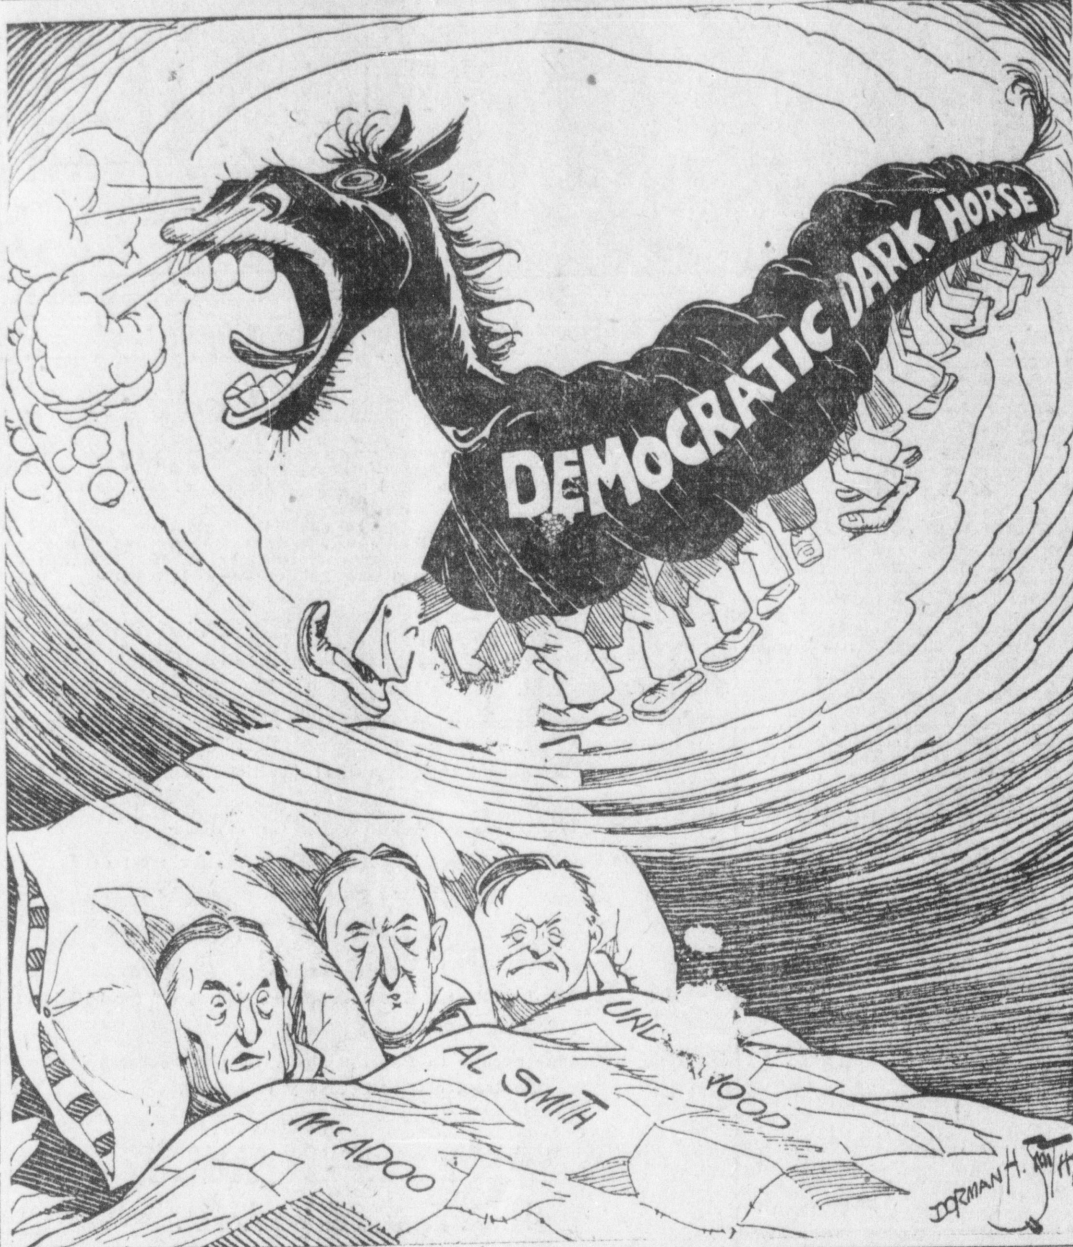

Chatting carelessly, he adjusted the arm band, and secured reading of his blood pressure, and was actually convinced, so the physician said, "Well, only half later and we'll try it again. What about it? I'll see you this afternoon?"

"All right." The two played over the full course in the afternoon, and after a shower, were lounging in one of the smaller rooms of the club house. Again, apparently as a passing thought, the physician produced his instrument and said, "I might as well try your blood pressure once more." The reading was taken, again showed slightly under the average. The patient was astonished but never again worried about this.

Now what about this? Well, early in the morning, before your heart gets going strong from food or exercise, the blood pressure is low. During exercise and after meals it is a little higher than the average. Toward evening when you are tired, before your evening meal, it is down again.

My point is that your blood pressure is not a fixed thing, but simply shows what is going on in the body. If you are working hard, are excited, have just eaten, it will go up. If it is high at other than these times, there is a reason which may or may not mean something serious.

The Nightmare

NIAGARA
The thoughts are strange that crowd into my brain
While I look upward to thee! It would seem
As if God pour'd thee from his hollow hand.
And hung his bow upon thine awful front,
And spoke in that loud voice which seem'd to him
Who dwelt in Patmos for his Saviour's sake
"The sound of many waters," and had bade
Thy flood to chronicle the ages back,
And notch His centuries in the eternal rocks.

Deep calleth unto deep—and what are we
That hear the question of that voice sublime?
Oh, what are all the notes that ever rung
From war's vain trumpet by thy thundering side?
Yea, what is all that riot man can make,
In his short life, to thine unceasing roar,
And yet, bold babblers, what art thou to Him
Who drown'd the world and heap'd the waters far Above its loftiest mountains?—A light wave,
That breaks and whispers of his Maker's might!
—John G. C. Barnard.

Conservation of Fish

By Herbert Hoover, U. S. Secretary of Commerce.

The passing of the Alaskan fisheries conservation bill by the Senate practically assures the most important step yet accomplished in the preservation of our sea fisheries. I am naturally very much pleased as I have urged this legislation in every session of Congress for the last three years.

I can stand any amount of personal abuse with all the amiability of the winner.

The temporary reserves were put in two years ago to hold the fort for the purpose of preventing further destruction of the fisheries owing to the failure of Congress to take action at that time will now come to an end. They have served their purpose and there are more fish in Alaska today than there have been otherwise. There is no more monopoly today than there was before the reserves were created as not a single addition has been made to the canneries in the reserves. The reserves have served an even greater purpose in that the forces which they have stirred up brought this question to sufficient public interest to secure permanent solution of it through Congressional action which I have continuously sought.

Any conservation measure naturally requires a reduction in the activities of people in the industry concerned. One can not expect them to like it, although it is vitally necessary in public interest that these fisheries should be saved. President Roosevelt's extension of the forest reserves gave rise to the same sort of cries.

In order that the new act may be administered in the most constructive and intelligent manner I propose to co-operate with the Governor of Alaska in the appointment of an advisory board representing all elements of the community in Alaska for the purpose of developing detailed methods of controlling the fisheries under the act.

I trust that this is the start of a series of effective measures for the redemption of American sea fisheries. We can, by equally constructive work, yet restore the great lost fisheries of shad, sturgeon and salmon to the Atlantic Coast. This is a great beginning toward conservation and with the public understanding that has come out of this discussion I believe we can make even further headway.

Refusals to testify in recent government investigations does not prove there is honor among thieves.

Little Benny's
Note Book

by Lee Page

Sid Hunt was spinning his wits and I watched him a while and then I took my glassie marble out of my pocket and held it up to the light and started to look at it as if I thawt it was one of the greatest marbles I ever saw, saying, That mite be a pritty good of a top, but I'd rather have this glassie any day. Well it's a good thing because I wouldn't swap you, I know wen I'm satisfied, Sid sed.

So do I sed, And pritty soon he sed, Lets see that marble will you? and I sed Sure, lets see your top a minnit.

And he started to look at the marble and I started to look at the top, me saying, O well, it aint sutch a bad top, but I wouldn't swap that marble for any top. That's a imported glassie, that is, I wouldn't be surprised if that was made in China, just think of the expense of bringing it over, I sed.

Well, I didnt reely want to swap that top, but seeing as you're so anxious I'll swap it for this glassie, Sid sed.

Anxious nothing, I'm nutty to swap this glassie, I may never get another one like it, but wat do I care, I'll swap you jest out of friendship, Sid sed.

And we swapped, and Sid wawked away with the glassie, and I started to spin the top, and after a while I found out the peg was loose, me thinking, Good nite, darn that guy, I'm going to find him and make him swap rite back.

And I started to hunt for him and pritty soon I saw Puds Simkins leaning against the bakery wall smelling the smells coming up out of the celler, and I sed, Hay, Puds, did you see Sid Hunt, I want that guy, and Puds sed, Sure I saw him and he wants you, too, he says you swapped him a glassie with a crack in it and he's going to make you swap back.

Aw, that wasnt much of a crack, I sed, Thinking, I can fix the peg in with glue, if he can go tries to swap back he can go to the dickens.

Proving there is 2 sides to every story.

A committee of Tustin residents began circulating a petition asking the board of education to retain J. C. McGee as principal of the grammar school there.

A. C. Tiede, secretary of the Santa Ana Valley Walnut Growers' association, said this year's walnut crop would be better than last season. He has investigated most of the orchards in this vicinity.

The Orange County Savings bank added a trust department. The officers and directors are Carey R. Smith, president; C. E. French, vice-president; C. E. Lamme, vice-president; F. W. Winslow, cashier, and H. R. Andre, assistant cashier.

V. E. Blodgett, president of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association was authorized to appoint a committee to investigate ways and means of raising a fund to help finance the transforming of the Rossmore hotel into a first-class hotel.

What About This?

Kansas City Star

What has happened to the church organizations? What sort of leadership have they fallen into? Here is the Methodist church of distinguished history and tested loyalty debating a treasonable declaration and finally resorting to a compromise to avoid a show-down. Here is the Presbyterian general assembly voting for a carefully worded pacifist resolution, and defeating overwhelmingly an amendment pledging the nation the support of the church membership in the event of war.

What is the matter? This nation was founded by stern and fearless men. They felt there were things worse than war, worse than death. They believed peace could be too dearly bought. Have their sons gone back on this fighting faith?

In the great days when the nation was being founded an American could exclaim: "Is life so dear or peace so sweet as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery? Forbid it, Almighty God! I know not what course others may take, but as for me, give me liberty or give me death."

We used to revere Patrick Henry as a true patriot. Today the church assemblies would hiss down such a sentiment. He would be told he was a militarist, a brutal enemy of humanity. Peace, no matter at what cost, peace at any price is the motto.

Under the spiritual and political leadership of Abraham Lincoln tens of thousands of men went to their death in defense of what they held was right. Americans have felt the Union was worth the price in blood. Today church bodies are challenging the patriotism that is willing to fight.

In 1917 Germany offered Mexico

part of the United States as payment for an alliance. The Berlin government notified this country that it would be permitted to send one ship and one ship only every week to Europe. It announced restricted submarine warfare against American vessels. Then America decided that national safety and world safety were menaced by autocratic militarism. The country held war better than submission. Not so the church organizations that now adopt pacifist resolutions.

These separate the church from the nation. They hold themselves aloof. They vote to behave, not as Americans, but as pacifists. They will not even pledge themselves to fight in the event of war!

From tribal days it always has been a first principle of the preservation of the tribe that its members may be called on to fight in its defense. As civilization advanced it has been fundamental that a government worth living under was a government worth fighting for.

The Star believes this still is the creed of the average man; the average churchman. It believes this is the creed of the great body of ministers, at least in the West, as was shown by the sermon preached in Kansas City Sunday. It believes in spite of the flabby leadership that has brought the patriotism of great church organizations under suspicion, the members of the churches are loyal to their country.

But it believes such humiliating and disloyal sentiments as have been expressed in high places recently are demoralizing and dangerous. They cannot be permitted to go unchallenged.—Kansas City Star.

Magnesite

What the vast mineral deposits of California mean for the future of manufacturing in this state is well illustrated by the growth of the magnesite industry. Mining of this comparatively rare mineral began here as the result of war demands in the steel industry, which needed magnesite for furnace lining. The production averaged over $2,000,000 in value during the war and in the boom days that followed. In 1921, however, mining of magnesite practically suspended. Yet last year the production had been resumed and had a value of $840,000. That was the result of the creation of new industry. Magnesite, the chemists and engineers revealed, was valuable for stucco, for sanitary ware, for flooring material, for fire-proofing, and those industries are now going concerns throughout the state with a potential production running into millions, and with a world market. California has many other minerals, not now mined, that will in time add greatly to the state's manufacturing activities.

OF THE TWINS
by Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 19—MISTER COON'S RADIO SET

"I want to buy one of those new things," said Ringtail Coon, coming into Mister Bags' store one day and marching up to the counter.

"What new things?" laughed Nancy. "Do you suppose we sell old things in this store, Mister Coon, now do you?"

Mister Coon looked kind of sheepish as he answered, "Oh, excuse me! I know that of course. But I mean one of those extra new things where you have to tack sticks on your chimney and have a lot of boards and wires sticking up into the air."

"Oh, you mean a radio set, don't you?" said Nick.

"Why, yes," said Ringtail. "I guess that's it. There's a little wooden box full of twigs and knobs and screws and enough gimcracks to start a hardware store. And you set it on a table and turn something and it sings and talks and plays music and everything like that."

"Yes, that's a radio set you are talking about," said Mister Bags. "And you came at exactly the right time, for I have a fine one I just got in today. Here it is in the showcase. It costs two dollars."

"My, my! That's a lot of money," exclaimed Mister Coon. "That's about my entire fortune. Couldn't you make it a little cheaper, Mr. Storekeeper?"

"Well, I might let you have it for a dollar and ninety-nine cents," said Mister Bags thoughtfully.

"All right!" said Ringtail Coon. "I'll take it."

And then there was a busy time for everybody.

Nick and Nancy went home with the coon gentlemen and up to the place he lived in Old Oak Apartments.

Nancy sat on the sofa and looked at Mister Coon's photograph album and Nick went out and started up all the wires and queer wooden things to the tip top branches of the oak tree.

Pretty soon everything was fixed and Nick showed Mister Coon how to run it.

"If you want to hear somebody making a speech in New York, you turn the little knob this way," he said. "And if you want to hear some music in Chicago, you turn it that way."

"Goodness!" gasped Mister Coon. "Isn't that just wonderful! New York must be a mile away."

"It's hundreds of miles," said Nick.

"You don't say so!" exclaimed Mister Coon.

"Yes, sir!" said Nick. "It is. And if you like you can hear things from away across the sea. You can get Africa where the lions and tigers live just as easy as anything."

"I'd rather not," remarked Ringtail uneasily.

"That's all right," said Nick. "You can listen to anything you like." So he turned the little knob and instantly a band started to play so loudly that Mister Coon jumped.

"What's that?" he cried, running to his window and looking out. "I didn't know this was circus day."

"It isn't," laughed Nancy. "It's all coming out of your new radio set."

"Well, I declare!" grinned Mister Ringtail Coon. "Isn't that fine, though! I'll write some invitations and ask all my friends in to a party."
